Nuclear-Tipped Polaris Slated for Pacific Test

A-Blasts to Start in 2 Days

By LEON BURNETT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Present government plans call for a submarine-launched Polaris missile with a live nuclear warhead to be tested in the U. S. atomic series in the Pacific, it was learned Sunday night.

It was also learned from well-informed sources that a new type antisubmarine weapon with an atomic warhead will be given a live test in an under-ocean shot if current plans are carried out.

The Soviet Union is coming up with more and better submarines, including nuclear-powered boats with missile-launching possibilities. See Story, A-4.

The nuclear tests are scheduled to start in a few days unless there is some last minute Soviet agreement to an inspected ban on nuclear testing. Tentative date for test renewal is April 25 — Wednesday.

* * * *

THE POLARIS warhead and the antisubmarine weapon would be the first missile-carried nuclear weapon tested by the United States.

The Navy has two new antisubmarine weapons — ASROC and SUBROC — and it was not established which would be fired.

ASROC, for antisubmarine rocket, is carried aboard destroyers. SUBROC, submarine rocket, is to be carried by submarines for launching against other submarines.

SUBROC is designed to be

TO PREVENT ACCIDENTAL A-WAR

JFK-to-Khrushchev 'Hot Phone' Urged

By WELLINGTON LONG

GENEVA (UPI) — The Americans propose to add another to the list of "hot" telephones that all chiefs of state in this nuclear age keep on their desks for instant contact with their military commanders.

This additional "hot" phone would make it possible, for instance, for President Kennedy to telephone Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on a moment's notice.

The idea of a top priority telephone line linking the White House in Washington to the Kremlin in Moscow is contained in the detailed U.S. disarmament plan presented to the Geneva disarmament conference on April 18.

American leaders have been concerned for some time that too little is being done to prevent the risk of war by accident, miscalculation, surprise or a breakdown in communications.

President Kennedy touched on the problem when he addressed the United Nations last year.

The American plan now presented in detail calls for reduction of the risk of war by advance notification of military movements and maneuvers; by establishment of observation posts at major ports, railway centers and motor highways, river crossings and air bases to report on massing and movement of military forces; and the exchange of military missions.

None of this, however, solves such problems as the possible shortfalls or overshots of missile or space rockets or the possibility of the malfunction of some other weapon which might trigger a war by accident.

That's where the new "hot" phone comes into play.

* * * *

"SPECIFIED parties to the treaty," the Americans propose, "would agree to the establishment of rapid and reliable communications among their heads of government and with the secretary general of the United Nations."

With such rapid communications between the White House and the Kremlin, for example, Kennedy could quickly determine whether a Soviet missile that landed on Hawaii, for instance, was one that went awry or was done on purpose. He could get on his "hot" phone and make one last check with Khrushchev before releasing the U.S. batteries of nuclear-tipped rockets in retaliation.

The system would, of course, also work in the reverse direction.

Navy Intensifies Argentina Crisis

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's smoldering national crisis flared anew Sunday night. The navy openly sided with army units opposing President Jose Maria Guido and declared Guido must wipe out Peronist election victories.

The navy's move, expressed in a bulletin to all naval commands, renewed the pressures that only Sunday had brought the country to the brink of civil war.

The bulletin said the navy had reached a "firm decision to insist by all means at its reach" that Guido honor what it called his pledge to nullify the March 18 election victories of followers of exiled dictator Juan D. Peron. It was the navy that led the military revolt which overthrew Peron in 1955.

* * * *

THANKS to a truce arranged Saturday by Guido between military leaders at odds over the election issue, Argentina won a breathing spell in a situation that threatened to explode into a shooting war between different factions of the armed forces. But the navy's move sent tensions soaring once more.

The navy said that to assure the "survival of democracy and liberty" in Argentina it was necessary to wipe out completely the March 18 election results and outlaw communism "and all other to-

DC3 With 28 Feared Lost

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—A DC3 airliner carrying 28 persons, all Colombians, was feared lost Sunday night in western Colombia.

Search planes failed to turn up any trace of the aircraft. A search group was to go out again early today.

Checkup Spotty on Blasts

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Government experts reported in documents made public Sunday that research has turned up no surefire way to detect underground nuclear explosions.

The Congressional Atomic Energy Committee published letters from George N. Bing, assistant director of the Pentagon's test detection office and from Adrian S. Fisher, acting director of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency.

* * * *

BING AND FISHER found no developments which would make the detection and identification of underground tests easier. Thus they found nothing to support press reports from British sources indicating that recent breakthroughs had been made.

The problem of test detection generally—and especially the question of identifying nuclear underground shots from earthquakes — is involved in negotiations on a nuclear test ban treaty. The United States has insisted on a network of seismic monitoring stations backed by on site inspections.

* * * *

BING WROTE committee chairman Chet Holifield, D-Calif., that results of the U.S. tests detection program — dubbed Vela by the Pentagon —have been varied, "sometimes expected, sometimes unexpected."

Fisher wrote: "Our scientists have concluded that our present capabilities to detect and identify underground nuclear explosions remains at substantially the level that was predicted when Project Vela began."

POPE JOHN XXIII RAISES the chalice to his lips during celebration of Easter Mass at St. Peter's Basilica in the Vatican before an audience estimated at 30,000.

EASTER PAGEANTRY

Christians Rejoice Throughout World

By The Associated Press

Christians the world over Sunday freed themselves of the somber restrictions of the 40-day Lenten season in a panorama of religious pageantry marking the resurrection of Christ from the dead 20 centuries ago.

The mode of rejoicing on the anniversary of the most festive day in the Christian calender was evidenced in as many ways as there are nationalities and geographic divisions on the earth.

There were twilight services conducted in cathedrals, outdoor arenas, small chapels, public parks and even makeshift churches set up in distant outposts to accommodate those far from their homes on military or other duty.

* * * *

IN ALMOST all instances there were two major similarities—the full appreciation of the religious connotation of the feast and sunny skies and balmy weather.

President Kennedy took his wife and two small children to his father's Florida residence for a private Easter Sunday Mass.

Pope John XXIII climaxed several days of presiding at Holy Week services in celebrating a joyous Easter Mass in Rome's Basilica. About 30,000 persons attended.

* * * *

THE PONTIFF then walked to the balcony of St. Peter's and addressed more than 250,000 persons in the courtyard below. He sounded a somber warning against a godlessness which he said could break the peace.

Tangerine is Jackie Kennedy's Easter color. Story, picture on Page A-3.

He said the peace of the world was threatened and reminded that "all people tremble at the thought it could be lost."

In New York City, site of the annual Easter Sunday parade, an estimated one million persons strutted up and down Fifth Avenue.

9 Killed in Crash Near Salton Sea

WESTMORELAND (AP)—Two cars full of people smashed headon at high speed south of the Salton Sea Sunday night, killing nine persons, the California Highway Patrol said.

Four others were injured.

The collision occurred seven miles west of here on U.S. Highway 99.

* * * *

OFFICER Robert Hunkins said the dead include:

Jose Palomo, Sacramento, driver of the car which collided with a station wagon carrying nine persons.

Also killed were Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Urias, Indio. Urias was driver of the station wagon, said Hunkins.

* * * *

THE OTHER dead were not immediately identified.

Hunkins said witnesses reported the car driven by Palomo was traveling an estimated 70 miles per hour.

The Urias station wagon contained several children.

Witnesses said the Palomo car was southbound and appeared to be traveling erratically. Palomo was probably a migratory worker, Hunkins said. The car was registered in Phoenix, Ariz.

* * * *

HUNKINS called the crash, which occurred as heavy traffic headed home from Salton Sea near here, "the worst I've ever seen."

One of the three passengers in the Palomo car was also killed, as was a year-old child in the Urias vehicle.

Hunkins said all those in the Urias car were apparently members of the same family. He said the station wagon was going about 50 miles per hour.

The dead and injured were taken by ambulance to Brawley's Pioneer Memorial Hospital.

Marine Copters Aid Viets

AN HUU, South Viet Nam (AP)—Two full companies of U. S. military helicopters—the largest helicopters force yet used in South Viet Nam —spent Easter Sunday shuttling Vietnamese troops in a mopping up operation in the Mekong River delta. In all, 29 helicopters were used.

100 Hunt 3 Lost in Cave

TRENTON, Ga. (UPI)—More than 100 searchers combed the dark, winding passages of a cave at the foot of Lookout Mountain Sunday for three college students believed lost in the cavern for almost two days.

Authorities Sunday night floodlit the rugged, mountainous area near this northwest tip of Georgia where the youths' car was discovered early Sunday. A contingent of the missing students' fraternity brothers helped with the search.

Workers discovered a huge underground lake which hampered search in the labyrinth of passageways that snaked through the mountain. Seasoned spelunkers said some of the caves extend for miles from the entrance.

Dade County Sheriff Allison Blevins, who directed the search, identified the youths as Bill Bartee and James H. Mason, both of Atlanta, and Martin Huddleston of Ormond Beach, Fla.

Singer's Son Drowns

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The young son of rock 'n' roll singer Jerry Lee Lewis, 3-year-old Steve Allen Lewis, drowned in a swimming pool at the Lewis home Sunday.

He was the son of Lewis by his third wife, 17-year-old Myra Gail Brown Lewis. The singer's marriage to his young cousin—Myra was 13 at the time—caused an uproar that ended an English tour for Lewis in 1958.

2 Safe in Blast

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—A 15-foot fiberglass boat exploded and burned off Santa Monica pier Sunday, but the two men aboard the craft escaped injury.

Lifeguards said Mark Cooper of Los Angeles, the operator of the boat, and a passenger identified as Howard Coogan leaped from the burning boat and swam to safety after gasoline fumes apparently ignited.

Ordeal Kills Boy, 2

ISLAMORADA, Fla. (UPI) — A 2-year-old Cuban boy who spent a week at sea in a small open boat with 10 other refugees fleeing Cuba died Sunday a few short hours before reaching land here.

The Dade County medical examiner's office said the boy, Juan Pablo Milian, apparently perished from lack of food and water. The boat had been drifting for several days, apparently without fuel or supplies.

Brush Fire Rages

SCOTTSBURG, Ind. (AP) — A wind-whipped, 1,000-acre brush fire swept into the Clark County State Forest Sunday night and fire control tower operators said it was "way out of control."

Hold Wife, Sailor in Baby Death

Detectives Sunday booked a young sailor and his teenage wife for investigation of involuntary manslaughter following the death of their infant daughter.

Owens Lee Carter, 21, a crew member of the USS Hamul and his wife, Nema, 19, both of 118 Hoffman Ave., were arrested by homicide detectives investigating the death of their six-months-old daughter, Sandra D.

* * * *

DET. SGT. Frank Welch said the couple was arrested when a preliminary investigation revealed bruises on the face of the infant. Sgt. Welch said the infant's eyes were blackened and her forehead was bruised.

The parents, according to the sergeant, said they were unable to explain how the infant suffered the bruises.

An autopsy will be performed today to determine cause of death.

Juvenile authorities took custody of the couple's older daughter.

Pressure to Delay A-Tests

LONDON (UPI) — British newspapers applied pressure to Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Sunday to urge President Kennedy to postpone the Christmas Island nuclear tests in hopes of a test ban accord at Geneva.

The Sunday Times' Washington correspondent Henry Brandon said Macmillan already was making "last minute attempts" by telephone and letter to win such a postponement while publicly supporting Kennedy on the matter. The Sunday Times said Kennedy rejected Macmillan's appeal.

Macmillan is scheduled to visit the White House Friday after addressing a convention of U.S. newspaper editors in New York. Brandon's dispatch said the American tests, barring technical hitches, would begin just before Macmillan's arrival.

THE DRUNK WAS SLEEPY

Oops! Wrong Bed!

DAYTON, Ohio (UPI)—It was just like an old joke. The drunk walked in, peeled off his clothes and went to bed early in the morning.

Two sisters, aged 21 and 18, watched speechlessly from another bed. Their 13-year-old nephew—a little upset about it all—climbed out of the bed the drunk had just climbed into.

The sisters called another sister and her husband. They tried, but couldn't awaken the inebriated one. They called police. The officers had more luck. They asked the drunk where he lived. "Park Avenue," he told them.

"This is Detroit Avenue," the police told him. The drunk apologized, got dressed and went off to Park Avenue.

Light Tremor Jars District

An earth tremor rattled parts of Long Beach, Gardena and Torrance Sunday.

The control tower at Long Beach Municipal Airport swayed slightly, but no damage was reported. A seismologist at Caltech described it as a "small tremor."

SERIES TELLS OF 'RELIGIOUS HANDOUTS'

There is just so much money available in Long Beach for religious and philanthropic work.

And, says Inspector Donald W. Tubbs of the Long Beach Police Department's Bunco Detail, if these funds are siphoned off into the coffers of "bands of beggars" that much less is left for legitimate work of religious and charitable organizations.

It is this problem that was investigated "from the inside" by Independent Staff Writer Vint Mader. His provocative three-part series on pseudo-religious groups which solicit funds door-to-door begins Wednesday in The Independent.

—L.A.C. SAYS:—

Political Sophistry

The State Senate's approval of a measure permitting Los Angeles County to outlaw commercial poker parlors seemed to us to be pure political sophistry—deceptive, subtle reasoning. It certainly describes the Senate's action in ducking the real issue—that of outlawing commercial poker parlors throughout the state.

The Senate made sure action would not be approved by the voters. It did so by including in the measure that it would also be unlawful — in Los Angeles County—to play poker in your own home. There is also considerable doubt that the legislature or voters of the state can legally confine such restrictions to only one of the 58 counties.

This is a typical political maneuver for politicians to pass a measure which most of the people probably believe in—but to so word it that its effect will be meaningless. We may be sure the poker parlor operators in Gardena are chuckling over the results—as are commercial poker parlor operators in the northen part of the state.

The people who are opposed to commercial gambling are not opposed to people playing games for prizes or money in their homes. They oppose commercial gambling because it breeds corruption and brings together the worst elements of a community. We have seen it operate in Seal Beach and Signal Hill, where it got so bad the people voted it out. But in Gardena it has such a hold on the community the decent people have been unable to do so.

Now the State Senate by its wording has placed friends who play a friendly game in one of their homes in the same class with the operators of places that live by charging for the privilege of playing — and where card sharpers often fleece the players who are gullible enough to play with strangers.

Had the Senate been honest in its action it would have voted to give the voters the right to outlaw commercial poker parlors anywhere in the state. By adding the homes to the measure it almost certainly killed its chance of accomplishing the purpose desired. That is apparently the reason why it was so worded. Governor Brown and his followers will say —See, we gave Los Angeles County a bill permitting them to outlaw poker parlors.

But in doing so, pure political sophistry was used. It is an example of how the politicians who voted this measure as written look upon the public as suckers—just as the philosophy of the gamblers is "never give a sucker an even break." It is one of the most disgusting of the occurences that cause the people to lose confidence in their elected officials. —LAC

Jackie Cochran Claims 49 More Air Records

Jacqueline Cochran
Top Speed 620 mph

Compiled from Wire Services

Jacqueline Cochran flew 5,120 miles from New Orleans to Hanover, West Germany, Sunday at an average speed of 489 miles an hour to claim 49 new flight records.

Her top speed in the Lockheed Jetstar executive airplane was 620 miles an hour. The plane is a small four-engine jet aircraft.

Miss Cochran, wife of American millionaire Floyd Odlum, took off from New Orleans with three companions at 1:20 a.m. (EST). She made refueling stops at Gander, Nfld. and Shannon, Ireland, and landed at Hanover at 3 p.m. EST.

The National Aeronautic Association said her claim of 49 records was the largest ever submitted for a single flight.

Miss Cochran previously had set 33 national and international flight records, and 16 of these are still in effect.

The major record claimed Sunday was an international mark for distance in a straight line, for a jet plane piloted by a woman. That was for the 2,279 miles between New Orleans and Gander, over which she averaged 479.8 miles an hour.

The other records claimed were for the combinations of times between various cities, in both the men's and women's category.

LAUGHTER

Guy Burgess laughed Sunday at Scotland Yard reports that he and another runaway British diplomat, Donald MacLean, were planning to return to England.

Chain-smoking Russian cigarettes, he told reporters at the Ukraine Hotel in Moscow:

"What a splendid uproar about nothing. Both MacLean and I are staying in the Soviet Union. This is our home. I do not often see MacLean but I know that he and I are both staying here."

Scotland Yard has said there was reason to believe the two foreign office official who defected to the Soviet Union in 1951 planned to return home and got out arrest warrants for them last week.

Burgess, looking tanned and fit, returned Sunday from a holiday at Yalta on the Black Sea.

While he talked to reporters, Burgess drank Armenian brandy and kept fingering his old Etonian tie. With the tie, which is black and blue, he wore a checked shirt, a tweed jacket and gray flannel slacks. He shares a Moscow flat with a handsome young Russian guitar player.

BETTER

Mrs. Barbara Powers, wife of U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers, was reported in good condition Sunday at Washington's Georgetown University Hospital where she was taken Friday in a coma.

No diagnosis of her illness has been made, a hospital spokesman said.

When she was admitted police said she was reported to have taken an overdose of nembutal tablets, a sleep-inducing barbiturate. She regained consciousness later the same day.

AWARD

The seldom-awarded Langley Gold Medal of the Smithsonian Institution is being given to Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Medal Winner

The Smithsonian announced Sunday the medal will be awarded to the pioneering space-age scientist-executive next Friday in Philadelphia at the annual meeting of the American Philosophical Society. Dryden directs the civilian space flight program for NASA.

The medal has been awarded only nine times since it was established in 1908 to be given for "special meritorious investigations in connection with the science of aerodromics and its application to aviation."

KNIFED

Hollywood makeup artist Perc Westmore suffered knife wounds Saturday after fighting off two burglars in his apartment.

Westmore, 57, told police he was awakened about four in the morning by noises in his den. Westmore said one intruder pulled out a knife and cut him on the right side and right hand.

Westmore was treated at an emergency hospital for superficial stab wounds and then released to his own physician. He said the pair escaped with a $40 radio and a $260 watch.

TALLADEGA, Ala. (AP) — Negro college students sought to integrate Easter services at six churches. They were accepted at one church, arrested when they refused to leave another and turned back at the door of four churches.

Live Polaris Tests Planned in Pacific

launched from beneath the surface to streak through the air and dive back beneath the water on an enemy submarine.

* * * *

THE POLARIS missile has a warhead equal in destructive force of more than 500,000 tons of dynamite. That is small by comparison with the warheads on big Titan and Atlas missiles, but it is still equal to about one-sixth of all the explosive force laid down by the British and American air forces in World War II.

The Polaris missile has a range of 1,200 miles. In the Pacific tests the range may be greatly shortened, adding to the weight the missile will reach when its warhead explodes.

It was believed that the Polaris and underwater shots may be the only two in the series designed to proof-test actual weapons.

* * * *

THE OTHER tests in the atmospheric shots are expected to be aimed at gathering knowledge of effects of nuclear explosions, especially in the area of missile defense.

There will be at least one explosion, under present plans, several hundred miles high. Scientists want to know the heat, ionization, electromagnetic and other effects of such explosions. Scientists want to study in particular the effects that ionized particles would have on defense radars.

They want to know whether a nuclear burst in space or high in the atmosphere could serve as a "penetration aid," blinding warning radar and paving the way for missile attack.

* * * *

THE PROJECTED tests will be the first in the atmosphere by the United States in more than three years.

President Kennedy ordered the new series of weapons tests on a conditional basis: they would become necessary unless Russia entered a test ban agreement providing an inspection system satisfactory to the United States. Efforts at Geneva to arrive at such a pact still are deadlocked.

The first new American test may be a hydrogen explosion over Johnson Island, a dot of land about 800 statute miles from Honolulu. Or it could be staged over Christmas Island, a British possession about 1,300 miles south of Honolulu in the South Pacific.

* * * *

ALTOGETHER, this country is expected to set off perhaps two dozen nuclear blasts over a two-month period, some of them fairly big ones but none camparable to the Russian shot Oct. 30 which yielded 58 megatons—a force equal to 58 million tons of TNT.

It is understood the biggest of the American weapons will be in the neighborhood of 10 megatons. And all the shots will be at an altitude sufficient to keep radioactive fallout at a minimum in the test areas.

Shipping and aircraft already have been alerted to keep out of the critical test zones set up for the shots.

U.S. Sends Moon Shot Up Today

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The United States Sunday went ahead with plans to shoot a television-carrying probe at the moon today, despite technical problems in the 10-story launching rocket.

A silvery Atlas-Agena-B rocket was poised on its firing pad for the attempt to send Ranger-4 on the 60-hour journey—first of three major this week.

The 730-pound probe will attempt to end a series of frustrating U.S. moonshot failures by taking close-up pictures of the moon and by landing a rugged ball of instruments on the lunar surface itself.

Later in the week, U.S. scientists plan to rocket the nation's new Saturn "superbooster" rocket on its second brief test flight, and to hurl the world's first international satellite into orbit around Earth.

The Saturn launching is set Wednesday and the satellite attempt, called "UK-1," Thursday.

2 Children Die in Fire

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Two children were burned to death and two injured in a tragic Easter day fire in their home on the near east side.

Fire officials identified the dead as Mavis Spraggis, 4, and Alicia Spraggis, 4 months. Injured and taken to Children's Hospital were Robert Jr., 5, and Junior, 6. They were rescued by neighbors from the flaming home in the predominantly Negro area. They were not seriously hurt.

Red, Green Fog Sets, Crumbles, Thailand Says

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—A postman has reported seeing a red and green "fog" that breaks into little pieces, Thailand Radio reports.

The broadcast said the postman, Urb Suksangiem, told police the strange fog recently settled over his house in a town 225 miles north of Bangkok, then crumbled into bits the size of peas. The broadcast said the pieces have been sent to a police laboratory for analysis.

combined helicopter movement and air support seen in the war against Communist guerrillas so far.

* * * *

CASUALTIES were modest. At the end of the day, only two Viet Cong definitely had been killed and two wounded. About 20 prisoners suspected of being Viet Cong were taken. The government suffered only one casualty—a Vietnamese soldier who stepped on a sharpened foot trap.

Despite failure of the government forces to make contact with a sizable Communist force believed to have been in the area, U. S. military advisors on the scene believed the operation was a success.

"For one thing," one said, "the Vietnamese are learning to make better use of the helicopter support we're giving them. They're learning to move relatively small units as reserves and backing forces.

* * * *

THE OPERATION was carried out under the direction of Col. Huynh Van Cao, commander of the Vietnamese army's 7th division. Cao said he had requested the unusually heavy support after receiving intelligence that about 300 Viet Cong had moved into the area.

Besides the U. S. Marine helicopter company, the 57th U. S. Army Helicopter Company, stationed in Saigon, participated. After leaving the staging area here, the big H21 troop carriers skimmed along to their targets along the canals at 90 miles an hour only a few feet from the ground.

No helicopter was hit. They were on the ground in the various landing zones less than three minutes. American gunners returned the Communist fire whenever their craft came under attack.

JACKIE KENNEDY, SON IN FASHION
John Jr. Barefoot on a Warm Easter

Garb of Kennedys Simple on Easter

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—First lady Mrs. John F. Kennedy chose a sleeveless tangerine dress and carried her barefoot baby boy this Easter Sunday morning. On her dark hair she wore a scalloped white lace mantilla.

The dress of the President and his family fitted in with Palm Beach resort on a lazy, sunny Sunday morning. Kennedy himself wore a gray summer suit and unobtrusive gray tie with white shirt when he arrived at his father's home for private Mass. He was hatless.

* * * *

DAUGHTER Caroline, 4, was in pale pink. She, too, wore a simple, sleeveless dress, but it had a full skirt. And in her short blonde hair she had a pink bow. She had a pink sweater to match, too, and wore the one-strap black slippers that little girls wear.

The color of Mrs. Kennedy's dress was somewhere around tangerine, coral pink, light melon—no one agreed exactly on the name. But it's a favorite color for resort wear here, making an attractive contrast to the blue of the skies and the sea.

The material of the dress was heavy looking with an all-over raised or embossed imprint. The design was simplicity itself — sleeveless, a high, round neck, fitted bodice and a few tucks at the waist to give a bit of easy fit to the straight skirt. She wore pumps and short gloves and carried a handbag, all in an off-white color.

* * * *

SON JOHN JR., 17 months old, was in a little boy's suit of white. The dark-eyed, dark-haired child looked like any cute, barefoot baby on his mother's arm.

The First Lady, in a melon-colored swim suit, also got in a bit of water skiing in the afternoon on the slightly choppy surface of Lake Worth. As the Kennedys cruised for an hour and 40 minutes aboard the Presidential yacht Honey Fitz three friends joined them—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spalding of New York and Christopher Dunphy of Palm Beach.

ADMIRAL SUMS UP

Anti-Submarine Defense Related

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adm. George W. Anderson says steady progress is being made in the critically important anti-submarine program but that so far no spectacular technical breakthrough has come to provide any sure-fire protection.

In talking to a newsman, the chief of naval operations said that, while the U.S. Navy's anti-submarine warfare system is making headway with new ships, planes and detection devices, the problem also is increasing. This is because the Soviet Union is coming up with more and better submarines, including nuclear-powered boats with missile-launching capabilities.

While Anderson and other Navy officials have said that the Russians now have subs capable of launching missiles, they have not said that these can be launched from submerged positions, as can the U.S. Polaris rocket.

* * * *

ANDERSON sees a bright spot in the Soviet missile submarine picture: so far, "nobody has made a Holy Loch available to them; if their friends in Cuba did that, it would be of considerable concern to us and our friends in the Americas."

Here Anderson was alluding to the floating base at Holy Loch, Scotland, where the U.S. Navy maintains the support ship Proteus and a floating drydock. This is the forward base supplying and maintaining Polaris submarines deployed along the northwest and northern European mainland approaches, within missile range of Soviet targets. Five Polaris ships are on station at present; the plan is for an eventual force of 10, each armed with 16 1,200-mile-range missiles.

Anderson said Russia will have greater problems in maintaining a missile submarine force deployed along the U.S. East Coast (unless she could obtain her own Holy Loch-type of base in the Western Hemisphere.)

* * * *

THE ADMIRAL said that the U.S. Polaris submarines have a double use potential—"they have wonderful ASW equipment and in a general war situation could be used for anti-submarine missions after they had expended their Polaris weapons."

The nuclear attack submarine, designed and equipped specifically for ASW work, is a "great asset to our ASW force because it can get detection gear down to where it works most efficiently," Anderson said.

The Navy now has about 15 nuclear attack submarines in commission, which is about half of the currently planned force for that type of ASW weapon. These subs can dive to more than twice the depth of conventional submarines, remain submerged almost indefinitely and maneuver at speeds of over 25 miles per hour.

* * * *

THEY ARE armed with wire-guided torpedoes and, in some of the latest models, will have the MK46 torpedo. That torpedo carries its own miniature sonar equipment and can search out and home in on a target.

Official estimates are that the Red submarine force consists of between 40 and 450 craft—almost four times the total of the U.S. Navy's undersea force.

Navy officers say these figures seem to give an erroneous impression to some of the American public — a picture of all 400 Soviet submarines ganged up off New York or along the East Coast. Several things should be remembered, say U.S. Navy officials: Russia has to deploy her submarine fleet worldwide; a substantial part of the total Russian force is of coastal, defensive type; most Russian submarines must move from and return to their bases through relatively narrow, well-watched international waters.

Fight Rises Over Job on Carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — An undercover struggle is shaping up in Congress over whether private or government shipyards will build a new $310-million aircraft carrier for the Navy.

The backstage tug-of-war grows out of a record-breaking peacetime defense money bill providing nearly $48 billion to equip and operate the armed forces in the next fiscal year. Congress stamped approval on the additional carrier and its $310-million price tag with little dispute.

* * * *

SEN. A. Willis Robertson, D.-Va., manager of the multi-million-dollar defense funds measure, said the new dispute results from House approval of only $280 million to start building the new carrier.

"That is so low I doubt that any private ship builders will want to bid on it," Robertson said. "That means the government's Navy yards probably will ge the award and then ask for more funds later."

House leaders had a different version.

Their report on the big bill said private builders estimated they could construct the huge flattop for $280 million while naval experts said it would cost $45 million more, or $325 million, in a Navy yard.

* * * *

IN SUPPORT of the $30-million reduction, the House Appropriations Committee said flatly "it is not dictating that the carrier be constructed in a private yards."

Sen. Robertson said costs are higher in the government-operated yards because "union labor fixes the price and how much work you can do in a day." Navy leaders said the higher costs in their shipyards result from a requirement to be ready for any type of emergency overhaul or quick construction and repairs.

Trading Stamps Saved for Wife

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—An airman at Little Rock Air Force Base Sunday said he hoped trading stamps can bring him and his wife together again.

Airman David L. Brooks, 20, of Knoxville, Tenn., married a Japanese girl in December, 1961. Since then he has been transferred to Okinawa and here. His wife has had to remain in Fukuoka, Japan, because they could not afford a $340 boat ticket.

He is saving trading stamps and hopes he can redeem them for money, enough to bring his wife to the United States.

All World Rejoices at Easter

The wide thoroughfare was closed to vehicular traffic a distance of 15 blocks. The mercury reached 86 degrees, a record high for the date.

* * * *

MANY OF those who marched in their Easter finery took up the cadence after leaving morning services at such famed churches as St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Cathedral, St. Thomas Episcopal Church, Fifth Avenue Presbyterian and St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church—all within a few blocks of the parade site.

Thousands of others attended services at the massive Episcopal Cathedral of St. John the Divine in upper Manhattan before making their ways to midtown for the parade.

The solemnity of the Christian occasion even left its mark in Communist China, where reports from the New China News Agency in Tokyo said church services were conducted and chocolate Easter eggs were sold.

* * * *

THE HOLY City of Jerusalem, thronged with pilgrims from distant lands, hailed the Resurrection of Christ with joyous hymns and pealing of church bells. The words, "Christ is risen, halleluja," echoed in many foreign tongues.

As dawn broke with a magnificent sunrise on a clear cool day, Latin Patriarch Albert Gori conducted a Pontifical Mass in Jerusalem's Church of the Sepulchre. It rests on the site after the crucifixion.

Londoners by the hundreds of thousands took to the outdoors in balmy weather to observe the religious event. So was the case in all other western European countries where the religious feast signaled the end of weeks of fasting and abstenence.

For some, the day was one of stumping for their individual causes—most active participants in drives for peace and moves to outlaw nuclear testing.

Such was the case for the Society of Friends, a Quaker organization, which ended a silent vigil which began in Times Square Friday afternoon.

The demonstration for peace was climaxed with a sunrise service with emphasis on prayers for peace.

Christians and Communists observed a day of celebration throughout Cuba. The Christians went to church in large numbers; the Communists paid hommage to Lenin. Roman Catholics and Protestants alike crowded into Havana churches to hear Easter masses and services.

"There were more people at Easter Mass this year than ever before," one Catholic said.

THERE WAS STANDING ROOM ONLY on New York's fabulous Fifth Avenue as the fashionable and famous parade their Easter finery for passers-by. This view looks north from about 49th Street in the Rockefeller Center area of Manhattan. Famed St. Patrick's Cathedral is at right. One million persons visited the avenue on the warmest Easter Sunday in years.

Racist Goes to Church Despite Ban

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Leander H. Perez Sr., excommunicated by the Roman Catholic Church last Monday for segregationist activities, attended Easter Sunday Mass without incident.

The longtime leader of Louisiana's segregationist forces and his wife went unannounced to the 11 a.m. Mass at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church in Gretna, across the Mississippi River from New Orleans.

As he strode jauntily from the church at noon and shoved a cigar into his cigarholder, Perez told the only newsman present (Al Mann of American Broadcasting Co.) that he continued his "lifelong habits of worship."

The excommunicated Catholic is cut off from personal contact with the church through communion, confession and similar practices, but Roman Catholic churches are generally open to the public during Mass. A church spokesman had said earlier in the week that it was unlikely any attempt would be made to keep the three excommunicated segregationists from entering a church.

talitarian systems".

THE BULLETIN, signed by the secretary of the navy, Rear Adm. Gaston Clement, said these moves were fully supported by the armed forces "despite reiterated interferences opposed to its being carried out."

The navy's action came as Guido turned to congress for political support. But one admiral told newsmen: "He has to act now, congress or no congress."

The chamber of deputies, many of its members balking at military determination to get rid of Peronists, had scheduled an Easter session. But the chamber postponed the meeting until today pending study of a senate-approved bill to extend Guido's presidential powers.

The legislators are to decide whether Guido should stay on as president until 1964 or set up a presidential election within the next four months. The senate decided in Guido's favor a week ago and only chamber approval is necessary for his extended stay in office.

* * * *

MILITARY leaders who sought to press Guido into signing stiff anti-Peronist decrees got the bounce after a rebellion within the army erupted Friday night. The upshot was a change Saturday in the top army command with men willing to give Guido a chance to work with congress.

Guido is reported to have refused military demands that he set back the Peronists by decree on the grounds it would have been a violation of the constitution.

Two of the military leaders who wanted Guido to nullify Peronist election victories by decree have left the scene as the result of the uprising by a tough tank commander, Gen. Enrique Rauch. Threatening to storm Buenos Aires with his armor, Rauch demanded the ousters of Army Secretary Marino Bartolome Carrera and Gen. Raul Poggi, the army commander-in-chief who led in the removal of Frondizi.

Rauch scored his point—both Carrera and Poggi resigned—and Guido named a relatively unknown army figure, Gen. Juan Bautista Loza, as the new army boss replacing Carrera. Loza then named himself commander-in-chief and announced the resignation of Rauch Sunday night.

Antique Bourbon? Who ever heard of Antique Bourbon?
Only a few people.
But those few act as though they had uncovered a legend.
Antique Bourbon, they claim, is like the legendary straight Kentucky bourbons of the early 1900's.
Robust, full of character, never harsh or raw. Why?
Antique Bourbon's sour mash is still made the slow, old time way. At 212 degrees.
(True, modern methods could rush it through at higher temperatures and yield more whiskey. But there would be a danger of harshness.)
Try to find a drop of harshness in Antique Bourbon.
It is all flavor, no bite. In fact, Antique Bourbon drinkers say it is the "real stuff."

Big Names Greet Van Johnson Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The movie colony turned out in force Sunday night to hail a night club experiment—and welcome home Van Johnson. Even Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles and Mayor George Christopher of San Francisco were on hand for the opening of the Coconut Grove's presentation of "The Music Man."

VAN JOHNSON
Music Man Returns

It marked the first time in the 41-year history of the Ambassador Hotel's nightspot that a current hit musical took over the stage where Bing Crosby started as a band singer.

* * * *

THE HOTEL enlarged the stage to accommodate the big cast for a five-week stand.

Johnson has just finished a year's run with the show in London.

For a holiday weekend, which Hollywood usually spends in Palm Springs, there was a surprising turnout of big names.

Among them were Rosalind Russell, Jack Benny, George Burns, Lee Remick, Mitzi Gaynor, Milton Berle, Peter Lawford, Mrs. Peter Lawford, Phil Silvers, Spike Jones, Janet Gaynor, Jim Backus, Corinne Calvet, Cyd Charisse and Ozzie, Harriet and Rick Nelson.

* * * *

OTHERS in the crowd included composer Meredith Willson, who wrote the book and lyrics of "Music Man," songwriter Jule Styne, Ann Sothern, Cesar Romero, hotel heir G. David Schine and his wife, Hillevi Rombin, former Miss Universe beauty contest winner.

Among interesting twosomes were Janet Leigh, recently separated from Tony Curtis, with Arthur Loew Jr., and Rick Nelson with pretty Kris Harmon, daughter of football great Tom Harmon and actress Elyse Knox.

MISS TEEN U.S.A.

SMOOCHING ON BEACH

Liz, Burton Rent Bungalow for Holiday at Sea Resort

PORTO SANTO STEFANO, Italy (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton spent a cloudy Easter together in their pink bungalow by the sea, staying away from the chilly beach where they strolled Saturday smooching teen-age style.

The actress and her husky Welch companion had a cozy lunch on a secluded, wind-blown terrace overlooking a tiny bay. They sipped wine between embraces, witnesses said.

The couple arrived Saturday for their second weekend in a row away from the pressures of film making and marital troubles.

* * * *

FOR THE LONG Easter weekend—they are not due back on the "Cleopatra" set in Rome until Tuesday—Miss Taylor and Burton rented a pink bungalow on the grounds of an exclusive and isolated hotel near here.

They got up late and except for a brief drive around this seaside resort town remained in their bungalow. They went out on the terrace overlooking the sea for a while but when two unidentified friends arrived they went back inside.

The 30-year-old actress was wearing black slacks and a blue pullover. Burton was wearing cream colored trousers and an open-necked sports shirt.

DESPITE a lovely private beach near the hotel, there was no chance of swimming. The weather was too cold and cloudy to make a dip in the Tyrrhenian Sea comfortable.

Although Saturday was the same, the couple went down to the seashore then arm in arm, laughing and occasionally kissing. They stood on the beach alone for some time, just looking out at the wind-tossed sea.

The hotel with its bungalows is about five miles from Porto Santo Stefano, on an isolated part of the Argentario Peninsula. During recent years the peninsula has become an exclusive resort area, catering to Italians and foreigners who have money and want privacy.

While Miss Taylor and Burton went off to the resort playground for the weekend, the actress' four children remained in their mother's luxurious villa in Rome with a hired nurse.

Seattle Fair Entertains Shah, Queen, Mayor

SEATTLE (UPI)—The Seattle World's Fair entertained the shah and queen of Iran and the Lord Mayor of Dublin Sunday.

The lovely Queen Farah drew more "Oh's" and "Ah's" than the beautiful buildings around her as the royal couple toured the grounds. Shah Reza Pahlavi and his wife were escorted to the fair grounds by Gov. and Mrs. Albert D. Rosellini.

They climaxed their tour by taking their lunch in the Eye of the Needle, a circular and revolving dining room at the 530-foot level of the 600-foot space needle. They then took a trip on the high-speed monorail, which links the heart of the city with the fair, and from downtown were driven to the airport for a flight to Los Angeles.

Lord Mayor Robert Briscoe of Dublin made his appearance about 3:15 in the afternoon, first taking in the "World of Tomorrow" show in the Coliseum.

K Attacks Critics of Leninist Policy

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev led his Communist Party Sunday in a sharp ideological attack on Communist critics of his domestic and foreign policy.

Repeating Moscow's claim to a monopoly of interpretation of Marxist doctrine, Khrushchev described his party's policies as "the only correct Leninist course."

Khrushchev spoke at ceremonies in Moscow's Bolshoi Theater marking the 92nd anniversary of Lenin's birth. The Russians appeared to be using the celebration to press their attacks on Yugoslav "revisionists" and Albanian and Red Chinese "dogmatists."

* * * *

FOREIGN Minister Andrei Gromyko returned Saturday from a visit to Yugoslavia and a communique said the "identity or similarity of views in basic international questions was confirmed." But that seemed to have no effect on Moscow's dim view of President Tito's independent brand of communism.

Khrushchev reminded his listeners "we have scored outstanding victories and have built the world's first socialist state." He said Marxist-Leninism is raising millions of people for a struggle "for freedom and happiness."

Communist Committee Secretary Leonid Ilyichev directed most of his fire at "doctrinaire and revivionist muddle-heads."

Replying to challenges to the Soviet's new program of building communism coming from Peiping, Tirana and Belgrade, Ilyichev said: "The new program of the party is a genuinely Leninist program, a new chapter on the development of Leninism."

MOSCOW (AP) — The Supreme Soviet meets today to place Premier Khrushchev once more at the helm of the government and perhaps hear him deliver a major speech on domestic and world affairs.

Western diplomats expect him to use the meeting of the newly elected parliament to denounce again the U.S. decision to resume nuclear testing in the atmosphere.

The World Around

Chiang in New Invasion Warning

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — President Chiang Kai-shek vowed again Sunday that he will invade Red China "once the measure of Communist iniquity is full and the people can no longer tolerate it."

He issued the new warning—his second invasion threat within two months—in an emotional Easter Sunday message which also charged that Communists are infiltrating the world's Christian churches.

The 74-year-old generalissimo, a Methodist convert, released the statement in his private chapel here. He said that since his government was driven off the mainland to Formosa 13 years ago "we have not paused in our efforts at counteroffensive and national recovery. With the progress of these years we have paved the way to certain victory."

He added that the Communists "not only reach from beyond Christian churches to inflict violence but war on the churches internationally through psychological infiltration."

SALUTE FOR WINNIE

Sir Winston Churchill receives a salute from an official of the port of Beirut, Lebanon, as he arrives for brief visit. Churchill is on Mediterranean cruise aboard yacht of shipping tycoon Aristotle Onassis.

6 Deaths Confirmed

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UPI)—Government officials Sunday confirmed that the six persons killed in the crash of a light plane last Wednesday in the rugged northern mountain sector were Americans. The plane was reported owned by Mr. and Mrs. H. Plymouth Shedd of Minneapolis, who died in the crash. Killed with them, officials said, were two other couples, Mr. and Mrs. William Knutson of Wayzata, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eickhoff of Crookston, Minn.

4 Slain in Bakery

ALGIERS (UPI)—The Secret Army Organization machinegunned a crowded bakery here Sunday and blew up the newspaper Echo D'Algier to show that the terrorist group remains a power despite the arrest of its leader, Raoul Salan.

Four Moslems were killed and four wounded in the bakery attack. No casualties were reported in the newspaper attack although Jean Pietri, 77, a watchman, died of a heart attack just before the explosion when the SAO threatened him and locked him in his apartment.

15,000 in March

LONDON (AP)—A five-mile column of 15,000 ban-the-bomb marchers reached London Sunday night on their 50-mile walk from Aldermaston and announced they planned a demonstration today outside the U.S. Embassy.

The announcement came from Canon John Collins as the marchers reached London's Action district in bright sunny weather, contrasting to the heavy rains that showered them in their first two days out.

Collins said he did not expect the demonstration outside the U.S. Embassy to result in a cancellation of scheduled U.S. nuclear tests. The column consists mostly of jeans-and-sweater-clad youngsters between 19 and 22.

Atom War Simulated

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The Communist Party newspaper Nepszabadsag said Sunday recent large-scale maneuvers in Hungary featured a "simulated attack with tactical atomic weapons and an artillery barrage across the Danube."

The newspaper did not spell out the direction of the attack. The Danube flows almost straight north-south in central Hungary.

Russ Jail American in Scuffle

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—An American schoolteacher said Sunday he was arrested and detained in Moscow after a street argument he said appeared to have been a deliberately staged cold war incident.

Neil Thienes, 30, of Sun City, Ariz., who teaches at a U.S. Army school in Germany, was interviewed as he returned Sunday with 149 other American teachers from a bus tour of the Soviet Union.

* * * *

HE WAS detained a total of six hours, he said, during which he was not allowed to contact the American Embassy. He was not physically mistreated.

Thienes said he was taking pictures near the Moscow science and economic exhibition last Thursday afternoon.

An old man with a cane approached him, he said, and motioned for a cigarette. The old man reached into Thienes' coat pocket and took out a picture showing Russian boys playing tug of war, the teacher said.

* * * *

"WE STRUGGLED for it," he said, and the old man suddenly threw himself into the street deliberately, screaming in Russian. A sedan came to a screeching halt and a police officer rushed to the scene."

Thienes said the officer motioned for him to get into the car, but he refused. "Four or five guys then grabbed me by the arms and legs and threw me onto the back seat of the sedan," he said.

He said he was taken to a place called "Militia 22," which he presumed was a police station, for questioning.

When he refused to sign a statement containing the old man's version of the incident, the plainclothesman called him a coward, a hoodlum, an undesirable tourist who should be kicked out of the country or prosecuted like a Soviet citizen, Thienes said. About 10 p.m., his captors gave up and took him in a paddy wagon back to the tourist hotel where he was staying, he said.

World Has 40 Million Party Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The total Communist Party membership in the world is approximately 40 million, a government analysis showed Sunday.

The Communist state parties, of which the Chinese with 17 million members is the largest, account for 36 million of the total. The largest parties outside the Soviet orbit remain the Indonesian and Italian with an estimated 1,750,000 in Indonesia and between 1,200,000 and 1,500,000 in Italy, the report added.

SOUTHLAND SCENE

Mental Patient Killed in Home Fight

ANAHEIM — A 42-year-old patient on week-end pass from a mental hospital lost his life early Sunday in a savage battle with his brother-in-law.

The loser swung an old-fashioned carpet sweeper against a man armed with a .22 caliber rifle.

Police said Raymond Barnard Weigle, 42, patient at a veterans' hospital in Sepulveda, was spending the weekend at 1787 Camrose St., Anaheim, home of Anthony James Frontera, 51, an aircraft company employee.

* * * *

WEIGLE became troublesome about 2 a.m., and was warned by Frontera to stop annoying Frontera's wife, Mildred, 49, and daughter, Tonia, 16, police said.

Weigle slapped the daughter and threatened violence against Frontera, Mrs. Frontera and two guests, Delbert D. Willsey, 18, and Debra Willsey, 9, of Highland, Calif., according to the police report.

While Frontera was telephoning police, Weigle ran to a garage, seized the carpet sweeper and returned, swinging the sweeper like a club.

* * * *

FRONTERA barricaded others in the house behind a bedroom door and fired two shots, one of which struck Weigle in the chest. The wound caused Weigle's death at 4:25 a.m. at Garden Park Hospital.

Moments after the shooting, as Frontera, bruised and bleeding from cuts, again was telephoning for police, officers arrived at his home in response to the earlier call.

Frontera was held at Anaheim city jail on a technical booking of murder, pending a study of the case today by the district attorney.

Auto Injury Fatal

TORRANCE—A 68-year-old transient died at Harbor General Hospital Sunday of injuries suffered when he was struck by a car in Wilmington Saturday night. Police said Alfred Pattavino was struck by a car driven by Doris Lucille Norcross, 20, of 1981 Fanwood Ave., Long Beach, as he tried to cross Anaheim Street near Nicholson Avenue.

Crash Hurts 8

COMPTON—Eight persons were taken to Las Campanas Hospital for treatment of minor injuries after a two-car crash at 12:20 p.m. Sunday at Rosecrans Ave. and Parmelee Ave.

Most seriously injured were Mrs. Mattie Williams, 39, of 1907 N. Riddle Ave., Compton, driver of one of the cars, who suffered face cuts and a broken rib; and her son, Miles Sims Jr., 5, head and face cuts. Both were admitted at the hospital.

Others were Theodore Shands, 28, of the USS Frontier, and George Haley, 20, of the USS Benner, both transferred by Navy ambulance to the hospital ship USS Haven; James Moore, 28, of 628 Anaheim St., Long Beach; Larry Smith, 7, and Emma Lee Smith, 5, both of 1907 N. Riddle Ave., and Brenda Joyce Sims, 7, of 224 E. 53rd St., Los Angeles.

Police listed as one of the drivers Shaw Thompson Jr., 31, of 1011 S. Northward St., Compton.

$2,059 Stolen

PARAMOUNT — Deputy sheriffs Sunday pressed a search for a burglar who escaped with $2,059 in currency from a discount store here. Deputies said the burglar pried open a door to the cashier's office of the Sarco Discount Store, 15977 Paramount Blvd., and took the money from a locked cash drawer.

Cliff Fall Fatal

SAN PEDRO — A man found dead at 9 a.m. Sunday below a cliff at Meyler Street and Paseo del Mar was identified by police investigators as Thomas Alford Estes, 26, of San Pedro, whose last known address, police said, was 658 W. 18th St.

Lt. Ralph Weyant, division commander of detectives, and Sgt. Wayne Butts of the Harbor Division's homicide squad, said the man appeared to have been killed outright in a 200-foot fall from the cliff brink to rocks at the ocean's edge, possibly three or four hours before beach visitors found the body.

WHETHER the fall was accidental, suicidal or homicidal could not be immediately determined, the investigators said.

The body was taken to the county morgue in Los Angeles.

Detectives said a search of police records at San Pedro showed Estes had been arrested many times for narcotics violations and for burglaries and that he was a narcotic addict.

His police record, the detectives said, covered two pages.

Throttle Sticks; 4 Injured

Four teen-agers were injured in a freak traffic accident in Torrance Sunday night which police blamed on a stuck gas throttle.

A car carried the four occupants down a hill at high speed and crashed into a power pole in front of 20336 Earl St., then burst into flames.

* * * *

TORRANCE policeman John Brady and Richard Winne said the driver, Ronnie Kendall, 18, of 2756 El Dorado St., Torrance, was thrown from the car but that he dragged the other three from the wreckage as fire rapidly spread.

Little Company of Mary Hospital reported Kendall suffered only minor injuries.

Hospital attendants treated the three passengers for cuts and bruises. They were identified as Michael Hadley, 18, of 3321 Carson St., Torrance; Richard Stubbs, 17, of 2741 Arlington Ave., Torrance, and Sandra Futrell, 15, of 18023 Ermanita Ave., Torrance.

2 Bandits Rob Store Manager of $3,342

Police searched Sunday for two bandits who took $3,342 from the manager of an F. W. Woolworth Co. Store as he carried the money to a bank for deposit.

Olney W. King, 31, manager of the store at 2188 Bellflower Blvd., was robbed as he walked to the U. S. First National Bank nearby Saturday afternoon.

King said one of the bandits menaced him with a pistol, grabbed the money, and escaped in a car driven by a confederate.

Easter Sermons Tell of Spiritual Triumph

The Easter message delivered Sunday by Long Beach clergymen to their congregations was one of spiritual victory in a gloomy era of material defeat.

It told of hope to carry man through a cloudy future and faith in a bright horizon at the end of his journey.

It was a message needed more now, pastors agreed, than ever before. It was not a dead legend, they assured Long Beach Christians, but a living belief.

* * * *

IN THE SERMON delivered by Rev. N. A. Moke at the Lakewood First United Presbyterian Church, the congregation was told that "Easter confirms that nothing in this world happens merely by chance."

"We live in a world of order," the Rev. Mr. Moke said, "because God is a God of order. Christianity is God's experiment in revealing to humanity the fine art of living through Jesus Christ, His Son.

"If human beings are to live in this reality, they must follow the life of the Crucified One."

* * * *

TODAY, he said, discordant voices claim to know the secret of life—the Communist, the materialist, the sensualist, the fatalist and the secularist—"but all end in the grave of dead hopes."

"It is only God's way that rises above the despair of men, for he is the Author and Finisher of Life."

The glory of Easter is the glory of the Cross and the victory of Christ, said Rev. Hiram B. Crosby, pastor of St. Thomas of Canterbury Episcopal Church.

* * * *

"TOO OFTEN we regard the Cross as a burden to bear," the Rev. Mr. Crosby said. "Christians should recognize the Cross as an opportunity to share the love and the concern of Christ for others. Through the Resurrection, we have the power to overcome that which holds us down—the sins, both large and small, of the world."

Navy Chaplain Malcolm A. Carpenter delivered his sermon from a floating barge during the sunrise service at the Navy Landing at the foot of Magnolia Avenue.

"Christians do not hold to a dead 'saint' but to a living Lord," Chaplain Carpenter said. "Not with a martyr, but with a Savior who lives. With this fact before us, God is back in men's lives, in our today."

* * * *

CHRISTIANS — true Christians—do not become neurotics or psychotics, he said.

"They approach a greater understanding, freedom from all fear, a richer life as they learn the wonderfully rich promises of the Lord, as death itself becomes Life.

"Here are the mysteries of Life and Death: Accept the risen Lord and live a life of ment, true worth and full joy. Reject Him, and live a life of glorious happiness, content-

Librarian to Attend Professional Institute

John D. Henderson, Los Angeles County librarian, will leave Wednesday for Cleveland to attend the four-day Institute on the Future of Library Education.

About 100 of the nation's leading librarians will meet to shape professional training so libraries and librarians can "deal more adequately with a changed and changing world."

The institute is co-sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education, the American Library Association and the School of Library Science at Western Reserve University.

Henderson will be chairman of one of nine seminar groups assigned to explore types of professional competence which will be required in the future and to propose changes in library school curriculums.

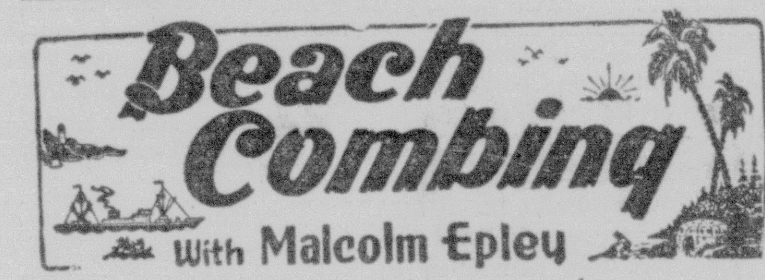
Chamber to Install Officers

"Breakthrough 1962" will be theme of the 71st annual meeting of the Chamber of Commerce at 7 tonight in Lafayette Hotel International Ballroom.

Dr. Orville W. Cole will take over the chamber presidency from Kenneth L. (Ken) Hemphill in an officers installation program. Charles S. Thomas, Irvine Co. president, will speak.

Four hundred chamber members have made reservations according to Robert P. Graham, meeting chairman.

Among other new 1962-63 chamber officers to be installed: Robert L. Mytinger, first vice president; Robert L. Irvin, second vice president, and Jerald S. Jacobs treasurer. Sixteen board members also take office.



Beach Combing

With Malcolm Epley

SOME concluding notes on New Orleans, just 3½ jet hours away from Long Beach:

Convention visitors to New Orleans are expected to look in at least once on the lusty entertainment along the French Quarter's famed Bourbon St. A wisecracking meeting chairman at our American Society of Newspaper Editors convention suggested on the "morning after" that ASNE might denote "Assorted Selections of Nude Entertainment."

My little group — I was with the editors from Duluth and Rochester, Minn.—didn't look over the whole assortment, but the little we saw was hardly worth the stop.

This began with a real laugh. Each of these girlie spots has a barker at the sidewalk door, urging passersby to come in. As we started to push by one of these fellows, he took a quick look at a button on my lapel and called:

"Come on in, gentlemen. This is Kiwanis headquarters."

This was good enough to get us in. We ordered three drinks (which cost us $4.75) and sat down in a sort of gallery behind the bar seats.

INSIDE the bar was a sort of runway where a lightly adorned girl was walking (dancing?) back and forth, more or less in time with some wild music emanating from a juke box. The girl herself looked completely disinterested. Now and then she did a nonchalant bump or grind. She could have been a life-size puppet on strings except that an expert puppeteer could have made his charge perform with more grace and spirit.

Presently she was replaced by another girl who was no improvement. This one evidently had just eaten a stringy dinner, for she picked her teeth frequently. A girl who followed her apparently had a cold, for she wiped her nose now and then with the back of the hand.

As you can guess, all of this was as glamorous as a telephone pole. Before we got hit for some more high priced drinks, we got out of there.

Later, when I chided my old friend, Herman Deutsch, New Orleans newspaper columnist, on the level of our entertainment experience, he snorted:

"That's for suckers. Now you know what you are."

SOMETIMES I wonder if the ex-Southerners I know aren't fooling us a bit on that accent business. New Orleans is about as deep south as you can get, but I've heard nobody speak with the twangy, r-less accent affected by some of my ex-Dixie friends. Local radio station voices sound like Yankees . . .

New Orleans, like Long Beach, can fool strangers on directions. There's one place where you look east over the west bank of the Mississippi . . .

Hotel, restaurant and store employes encountered could give a lesson to some you meet in certain northern cities. They offer a dignified courtesy that is all too rare elsewhere. You can ask directions, for instance, without getting a sneer. And when you're given some trivial service, there's no waiting around with the hand out . . .

A top entertainment feature in New Orleans is a ride on the S.S. President, a Mississippi river showboat. We spent an entire evening there—all of us—and the community hosts gave us a great time. Lovely girls in great white hooped dresses, members of the singing workshop at Loyola, sang here and there, accompanied by costumed troubadors. I vaguely recall that some young fellows sang, too, but the girl warblers really made the impression.

WELL, that's enough Beach Combing in New Orleans. I caught the Delta jet at NO's beautiful airport, and a short snooze and good dinner later was set down smoothly at International. So, back to the grind.

Better L.A. County Service, Reduction in Costs Urged

I, P-T Los Angeles Bureau

Pointing out that the cost of Los Angeles County government has more than doubled in 10 years—from $260 million in 1951 to more than $527 million in 1961 — Supervisor Kenneth Hahn this week called for periodic management studies of all county operations.

Hahn proposed that private management firms make the studies with the goal of "improving services and reducing costs."

At least five departments or special districts should be scrutinized annually, and every department should be studied at least once every 10 years, the supervisor said.

The board of supervisors has directed L. S. Hollinger, chief administrative officer of the county, to make recommendations within 90 days for implementing the plan.

Use of management studies is a common practice in private industry, Hahn said.

"A major reorganization of the county road department followed a management study a few years ago, resulting in a savings of $1 million a year in administrative costs, with the money being used to build more roads," Hahn declared.

Hahn said the studies would be designed to increase efficiency and economy, develop better streamline and simplify work, reduce red tape and paperwork, and build pride of service among county employes.

Although he feels Los Angeles County government is "the best of its kind in the world" with "sincere and dedicated" department heads, Hahn said "we should never be satisfied with what we do."

In the past, the supervisor said, special management studies have been called for only when a particular department "came under fire." He called this "a negative approach."

With county government becoming more complex as well as bigger — employes have risen from 26,245 in 1951 to 42,035 in 1961—impartial management and efficiency studies are needed "to tighten the county's economic belt for the benefit of the taxpayers," Hahn asserted.

Turfgrass Tested at 11 Schools

I, P-T Los Angeles Bureau

Two South Bay schools are cooperating with the California Agricultural Extension Service by conducting tests of varieties of turfgrass.

They are Dana Junior High, 1501 Cabrillo Ave., San Pedro, where the advisor is Belton Johnson, and White Junior High, 22102 S. Figueroa St., Torrance, where the advisor is Lawrence West.

White Junior High also is conducting demonstrations on how to improve on existing lawn by aeration, vertical-mowing and fertilization.

* * * *

THE SOUTH Bay schools are among 11 Los Angeles County schools taking part in the tests, according to Wayne C. Morgan, turfgrass specialist for the University of California's Agricultural Extension Service.

Grasses planted in the turfgrass plots are Kentucky and Newport bluegrasses, Alta fescue, St. Augustine, Tifgreen and Sunturf hybrid Bermudas, Matrella zoysia, Highland bent, a mix, and dichondra.

This Friday, the schools will hold open house so that residents of the area can see results of the testing. Each school will be judged and teachers and participating students will be honored by the Southern California Turfgrass Council at an institute tentatively set for May 24, at the Los Angeles State and County Arboretum, Arcadia.

The Supermen Deflated

THE "UGLY AMERICAN" took another scolding the other day in a speech by Charles H. Brower, president of Batten, Barton, Durstine & Osborn.

The Russians, he said, are beating us all hollow in the battle to win friends and influence people around the world.

"The Communists have a master plan," he declared. "They have a huge army in the field. They have a timetable. They have techniques that are tested and are working. They have an unlimited budget for the job—an enormous head start—and an unfaltering determination to stick to it and win that almost makes up for their lack of basic skill."

This picture of a smooth-working, superior Soviet friend-making machine has been recently challenged in a report by Frank M. Coffin, deputy administrator of the U. S. Agency for International Development.

According to his report, there is such a thing as an "ugly Russian"—and also a bumbling Russian. Russian technicians abroad have been caught smuggling. They have been involved in episodes in which vodka and women played important roles. Soviet technicians abroad keep to themselves instead of mixing with the native population. Furthermore, Soviet foreign aid is not always the fine, shiny thing it is cracked up to be. Egypt received numerous Soviet bloc diesel locomotives which were unable to pull their own weight. There have been complaints of defective Red planes, jeeps, and drilling equipment.

SAID MR. COFFIN: "The Russians are by no means nine feet tall, but neither are they midgets. They have their problems, as we do. They make mistakes, they run into implementation difficulties, they struggle with language barriers, they are not 100 per cent successful or anywhere close to that perfect figure."

There's nothing here to make Americans smug, but at least the report helps deflate the idea, held by too many, that we're competing with a bunch of supermen.

Major Roberts' 'Banzai'

DURING the latter stages of the battle for Leyte, Philippine Islands, in 1944, the Japanese Army units on the island — decimated, outmanned, outgunned and lacking air superiority—resorted to tactics to suit their desperate means.

The Japanese would infiltrate the perimeter past the front-line infantry until they found a support or supply unit. Then with banzai cries and terror tactics they would try to provoke the unit into firing wildly and revealing its position and armaments. If it were small enough to justify the risk the Japanese would attack and overrun it. Sometimes this was not necessary. Sometimes another American unit, hearing the wild firing, would be panicked into firing back. Then the Japanese could withdraw safely while Americans shot at each other in the darkness.

We were reminded of this by the curious speech of Maj. Arch Roberts before the DAR in Washington Thursday. Roberts spent much of his time denouncing what he called Los Angeles Mayor Sam Yorty's "Communist background."

It turned out later that his "evidence" consisted of the irresponsible statements made in 1938 by a jailed "Red burglar," who had never met the men he accused. The statements were later inserted without checking into the record of the House Un-American Activities Committee by an almost as irresponsible Congressman, who seemed to be primarily concerned with influencing a California state election.

THE FACTS ARE that Sam Yorty has a long and consistent record of vigorous and effective anti-communism. He was the first chairman of the California Assembly Committee on Un-American Activities. Under his leadership, the committee systematically rooted Communists out of the State welfare agencies, where they were attempting to establish a base. This patriotic effort was accomplished without the type of "shotgun" accusations that have sometimes marred anti-Communist investigations.

We share Maj. Roberts' concern with the Communist menace. We believe, however, that, like Gen. Walker, he has given way to panic and is firing wildly not at Communists but at loyal Americans. This can benefit only the Communists.

'Berth' From the Blues

LONG BEACH is the only general cargo port in the world which can dock the supertanker Manhattan, which is 10 stories high and 940 feet long. It tied up at Richfield's port terminal Friday to unload 750,000 barrels of crude oil from the Middle East.

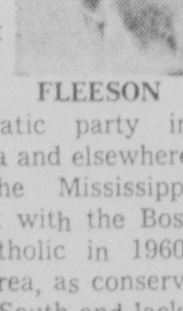
The Manhattan draws more than 49 feet. At mean low tide the entrance channel to Long Beach harbor is about 52 feet deep. And here's an irony—our channel is deep enough for America's biggest ship only because of subsidence. Except for the land sinkage caused by oil production a costly dredging program would be required to give the Manhattan snug harbor.

Now the irony is compounded. Because so much oil has been drained from our pools we were in a position to receive a record cargo of oil from distant fields. And at last something good can be said for subsidence.

DORIS FLEESON

Kennedy More Confident of His Stock in Midwest

WASHINGTON—The decision of George McGovern, director of food for peace, to return to South Dakota to run for the Senate reflects the confidence of the Kennedy administration that the President's stock has soared in the midwest since he took office.



FLEESON

A resurgent Democratic party in South Dakota and elsewhere west of the Mississippi lost its shirt with the Boston-bred Catholic in 1960. The whole area, as conservative as the South and lacking a Democratic tradition, seemed to find it difficult to accept so great a departure from its tradition as the old Republican heartland.

The President was aware of the cost of his candidacy to this group of state parties — a cost which proved, as many Midwesterners had foreseen, to be higher than it was in the South. He gave them consideration and a firm pledge to help them rebuild, and this pledge he has kept.

* * * *

THEIR disappointment was the greater because they had been making such good progress and, in a special election in June, 1960, just prior to the national convention, had put Quentin Burdick into the Senate from North Dakota. Burdick was aided by a long family tradition and the always-mixed politics of the state. His congressional biography still describes him as a "Democrat endorsed by Nonpartisan League."

Sen. Lee Metcalf also managed to pull through in Montana by a narrow margin. But the party losses generally spread down through the state offices and even through the courthouses.

McGovern's scheduled opponent, Sen. Francis Case, has been in the hospital and is understood to have recurrent heart trouble. He has not made any announcement about his future plans.

* * * *

CASE CAME to the Senate from the House in 1950 and re-elected in 1956. Work on a labor bill in the House, a forerunner of the Taft-Hartley act, helped to make him widely known outside his district, but in the Senate he has specialized in armed servises, on which he is third-ranking member, and public works. Both are important committees in his state.

The confused situation in Texas and signs of Republican growth elsewhere in the South have helped to convince Democrats that they cannot afford to ignore any section of the country. The census has underlined shifting population trends and long since has led Western Democrats to believe that they had a chance to exert far greater leadership than in the past year.

JFK Farm Hopes Undercut by Post Office Department

WASHINGTON—The Kennedy administration ought to tell its left hand what the right hand is doing. To put it another way, they ought not help one Alabama congressman over another when they desperately need the latter congressman's vote.

PEARSON

One of the toughest fights Kennedy faces in Congress is over the farm bill. Whether it passes will depend on the vote inside the two agricultural committees, and the swing man in the House committee at the moment is Congressman George Grant of Troy, Ala.

Grant has been torn between the Kennedy administration and the Alabama Cattlemen's Association, half of whose members belong to the Alabama Association of Manufacturers.

Just before the Easter recess, Grant was still on the fence regarding the farm bill. Grant is in a tough statewide race for re-election in which nine congressmen are running against each other. Since the number of Alabama congressmen must be reduced to eight, one of them will have to lose.

* * * *

LOWEST IN the race are Grant and Frank "all is made for love" Boykin of Mobile. They are running about neck and neck. Boykin has fought the Kennedy administration on almost everything, and brags about the support he gets from the Ku Klux Klan and the White Citizen's Councils. He has been involved in some interesting big real estate deals in nearby Maryland.

On April 12, just as agricultural officials were begging Grant to vote for the farm bill, another branch of the Kennedy administration — the Post Office Department — handed his chief rival, Frank Boykin, a choice political plum in the form of a new post office in Mobile.

The Post Office rushed out an announcement — quite unnecessarily — assuring Boykin that a site had been selected and a general post office would be built soon. The announcement came from Joe Doherty, in charge of post office facilities.

* * * *

ON APRIL 13, Boykin's rival, Congressman Grant, shied away from a vote for Kennedy in the agriculture committee.

It's now admitted at the post office department that Boykin has known the planned site of the post office for one year.

"Isn't this property owned by Boykin?" the Post Office was asked.

"We don't know," was the reply, "but that won't make any difference since the land will be taken by condemnation."

"Don't you think Boykin has enough influence with Mobile condemnation experts or juries to get a nice price for this land for himself or friends?"

On this point the Post Office was noncommittal.

Note — The debonair congressman from Mobile has been so worried over losing his election race that he spent around $150,000 for a personal mailing to 800,000 statewide voters, also paid the editor of the Choctaw Advocate to write a favorable editorial about him. Thanks to the Post Office, Frank now won't have to worry; Secretary of Agriculture Freeman will.

ON THE MONDAY after U.S. Steel's Roger Blough threw in the price sponge to John F. Kennedy, Juan Perez Alfonso, Venezuelan minister of mines, arrived for lunch.

The Venezuelan cabinet member had been invited by the U.S. Steel chairman some time in advance, and since U.S. Steel owns one of the biggest iron ore mountains in the world next to the Orinoco River, it would have been undiplomatic to cancel the date — despite the hectic turmoil over steel prices.

Perez Alfonso is a man who has lived for many years in exile. He is a democrat who is not afraid to tangle with big business. He is also a man not without humor.

"I saw the Shah of Iran riding up the street as I came in," he greeted the U.S. Steel chairman, "and I saw him looking up at your building as if wondering why there was no flag on it?"

"Is that so?" replied Blough.

* * * *

"THERE were flags everywhere, but here was the tall U.S. Steel building with no Iranian flag and no American flag," the Venezuelan minister continued his gentle ribbing.

U.S. Steel officials made no further comment. They did not elucidate as to whether the omission was accidental or whether it was prompted by the feeling that at that particular moment they would like to secede from the union.

MAJ. ARCH ROBERTS, former aide to Gen. Edwin Walker, squawked to high heaven because the Army censored his proposed speech before the DAR. However, the Army, though not revealing the inside facts, had good reason to be leery of Roberts.

This column has previously revealed how the major's name came up in a secret meeting of New York Chapter 26 of the John Birch Society, where Gene Groves, a newsman who penetrated the meeting, reported that a Mrs. Byron announced:

"Our letter-writing campaign is going magnificently. And Major Roberts is doing a wonderful job. His whole career would be in danger if the Army knew he was working with us. But be sure to use your names, the names of other groups to which you may belong, operate through other organizations. We must not associate the campaign with the John Birch Society."

* * * *

WHEN Jack Anderson, my assistant, telephoned Major Roberts in Fort Lee, Va., to ask "are you a member of the John Birch Society?" Roberts replied: "I don't care to comment."

He offered, however, to send Anderson some of the "pro-blue" material which he had provided General Walker.

STRICTLY PERSONAL

Values Protect Against Smut

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In any discussion about "pornographic" literature, the people who would censor it always make a last-ditch defense of their position by bringing up "our children."

"Even granted that adults should be able to choose their own reading material freely," they say, "would you allow your children to be exposed to such trash?"

HARRIS

I am quite honestly puzzled by their attitude. They seem to have such a low and nasty opinion of children, and little faith in the training and character of their offspring.

During my youth, all my schoolmates and myself were exposed to the most pornographic kinds of cards and pictures and illustrated jokes. We weren't amused, we weren't shocked and we weren't corrupted; we were simply bored by the graphic dirtiness after the initial curiosity wore off.

CHILDREN WHO are at all affected by that kind of thing are already the victims of a poor upbringing at home. If sex is portrayed as something dirty, cruel, contemptible, unnatural or shamefully furtive, then the children will respond to such attitudes by taking a pathological interest in the subject, pornography or not.

Of course, if any community wants to "protect" its children from smut, it has a perfect right to do so—but it should not be surprised if the results are negligible. Children reared in an atmosphere of love and trust and decent values are not "corrupted" by dirty books or pictures—and the others are going to wander into the ways of depravity no matter how vigilantly we may guard against it.

By the time a child is 6 or 7 years old, his basic attitudes have already been shaped. If these attitudes are not healthy and productive ones, he is going to look for other outlets — in sex, violence, lying, stealing or truancy. No police power or censorship power can be a substitute for the moral function of the parent and the family.

THE PARENTS who are so angry and worried about pornography falling into the hands of their children are really expressing deep doubts or fears of their own effectiveness as parents. They feel they have failed in some way, and hope that some outside discipline will take up the slack for them.

We cannot ask the schools and the courts and the police to do our job for us. Character is built at home, and only at home. Let us keep the dirty books out of the children's hands, by all means, if we want to — but let us not imagine for a moment that the feverish fantasies of an unhappy or unstable child can be curbed by burning books or prosecuting peddlers of smut.

Telephone Tax Should Be Ended

EDITOR:

Last May 26th, I wrote the Honorable Cecil R. King, member of the United States Congress of the 17th California District; I quote:

"You no doubt recall that the 10 per cent Federal Excise Tax was scheduled to end last year, but Congress voted to extend it for another 12 months.

"This 20-year-old wartime emergency measure classed telephones in with such luxury items as furs, jewelry and perfume. But I feel the telephone is a necessity like gas, water, and electricity and none of these bear the 10 per cent Federal Excise Tax.

"Therefore, I am sure all of your constituents here in the harbor area will appreciate your effort to end this ridiculous tax at this time."

On June 9, 1961, I received the following reply from Congressman King: "I wish to acknowledge your recent letter advising me of your interest in the removal of the excise tax on telephones.

"I regret to advise that, due to the critical fiscal situation confronting the Treasury, the committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives has voted to continue this tax until June 30, 1962."

You will note from the above that this ridiculous tax was slated to end fiscal year 1960, and was voted to end June 30, 1961. The same thing happened last year. They voted to extend it another 12 months which is June 30, 1962.

I still feel that the telephone is a necessity and Congress should vote it out. I also feel that it takes more letters to Congressmen to convince them that this tax is getting far too old, so why not every one write their Congressmen to abolish this telephone-tax this coming June 30th.

Languages in the News

By Charles F. Berlitz
and Robert Strumpen-Darrie

The motion picture actor, Richard Burton, sent a cable from Rome to his wife in England stating that "everything is fine." To avoid publicity, he sent the cable in Welsh, the ancient language of Britain, still spoken to some extent in Wales. However, somebody at the other end of the wire knew Welsh, so it became public anyway. (The Welsh word for "fine" is dirwyo.)

There have been other interesting incidents when a little-known language has been used with unexpected results. A British colonel made captive in Libya, along with his Indian troops in World War II, asked permission from his German captors to bid them farewell. When this was given, he made them a short speech in Urdu, Jub main ishara karun, tub ham bhag niklenge!—"When I give the signal, we'll escape!" Things began to happen quickly, and the unsuspecting Germans had reason to regret their lack of knowledge of Urdu.

During the First World War, the united States Signal Corps used American Indians to send uncoded messages in Cherokee, Apache and other American Indian languages. However, certain German professors, summoned by the German Oberkommando, turned out to have studied these languages and were able to intercept the messages.

Parties Fete Capt., Mrs. Simmons

By VIRGINIA H. LADDEY

Capt. K. W. Simmons was relieved on the 14th as commander of DesDiv 232 by Capt. Alfred A. Cherbak aboard USS Maddox, one of the division's four ships which also includes Brush, Preston and Moore. Capt. Simmons goes to BuWeps, and Mary will follow with the children as soon as school is out. They have a home in Arlington.

Mary presided on the 10th for the last time over Fleet Officers' Wives Club where she has done such a splendid job. The division said farewell earlier at the NAS Los Alamitos Club, while Mary, herself, was honoree at a luncheon on the 10th given by Kay Bolken, wife of "Moore's" skipper, at Allen Center. Staff wives of 232, skippers and execs' wives were present and gave Mary a handsome engraved gold disc bracelet.

The Simmons were honored guests at a dinner party given by Betty and John Welsh which included skippers and commodores of 232 as well as staff officers of ComCarDiv 19 and wives.

* * * *

MARY presided at the "crazy hat" FOW luncheon in a fetching chapeau of cabbage leaves ornamented with a nosegay of radishes. She was in the company of those whose home-created hats might have come from Paris or the salons of New York designers. Mildred Billings, guest of PhibRon 7's Wanda Catron, won first prize for prettiest in a creation of gilded re-molded victrola lavished with orchids.

"Most original" prize went to Ann Reeves (USS Guadalupe) who balanced on her head the whole Pacific basin as seen through the eyes of a Navy wife living in Long Beach. "Funniest" was won the hard way by Mary Clark in a costume done by Janes Graves (USS Okanogan). Mary twisted her way to victory in a Peppermint Lounge theme.

NAVY RELIEF annual fund drive begins May 1st. It is particularly important in this area where last year 2,221 needed aid for medical treatment not covered by MediCare; $40,946 was loaned or granted to such requests. Service people are aware that while tremendous amounts are paid by our government to civilian doctors and hospitals for the MediCare program, many vital areas are not covered.

The widows and orphans of men whose deaths were service-connected as well as dependent parents, retired personnel and their dependents are not covered. Prescriptions, ambulance service, and a large part of private nursing care are not provided for anyone. Costs of transportation to San Diego for check-ups and treatment of non-emergency conditions like cancer, heart, thyroid, lungs, kidney, and neuro-surgery are not covered.

When you are approached to contribute to Naval Relief, dig down deep, for this is the way our Navy "takes care of its own."

Due to the interest among both retired and active Navy personnel in the area concerning the proposed Long Beach Navy Hospital, In Navy Circles reporter, Virginia Laddey, has prepared this information:

The question of the size of the hospital now lies with a senatorial committee: Senators Richard Russell, Henry Jackson, Barry Goldwater, Joseph Cannon and John Stennis. Those wishing to express their feelings on the matter may address letters or telegrams to any or all of them at the U.S. Senate, Washington, D.C.

Active duty personnel should contact the senators from their home states. In California these are Senators Thomas Kuchel and Clair Engle.

A data sheet on the facts about the hospital is available at the Independent Business Men's Association, 1331 Junipero Ave., from President Paul Rioth.

Off Center Look

The balanced precision that has made so many rooms look so much alike has been replaced by off center grouping of lamps, accessories and even furniture. There is also a growing tendency to contrast contemporary sofas and easy chairs with antique chests, tables and Victorian bibelots. Experts say this blending gives every homemaker the opportunity to express her individuality as well as to enjoy her family heirlooms without giving up the comfort of foam rubber seating.

Provincial Ceiling Tiles Marketed

The room decorated in Early American may now be given an additional atmosphere of authenticity with the first acoustical ceiling tiles designed for this period.

The tiles are one of the three new patterns just introduced by Allied Chemical's Barrett Division.

All three of the new patterns are in pastel colors having the appearance of being hand painted. The tiles hark back to the decorative ceilings that were popular among early American colonists who favored painted and paneled ceilings. However, the ceilings of these early settlers did not have the acoustical qualities that are one of the features of these modern tiles.

* * * *

THE THREE tiles are designated as "Provincial," "Woven Grass" and "Leilani." "Provincial," which is acoustical fiberboard tile, is imprinted with a pastel blue-green design in petal shapes. "Woven Grass," also acoustical, is imprinted with a purposely imperfect lattice-type design that softens its linear effects and produces a three-dimensional appearance. The colors of this design are pale green and yellow.

"Leilani" offers a print in coral pastels, simulating large tropical plants. Designed for use on enclosed porches and in game rooms, this tile is not acoustical but can be used in various arrangements with tiles that are acoustical as well as by itself.

Weight Is 'Lost' Without Dieting

By PATRICIA McCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI)—The newest reducing formula makes a heavy woman look 10 pounds thinner—without dieting.

It is the optical illusion approach to overweight. The effect of a slimmer you is achieved through a kind of visual trickery.

Fashion expert Paula Miller described the formula in an interview, telling how the right clothes can camouflage excess weight.

"When a heavy woman follows the formula," she said, "she fools the mirror and all who see her. She'll really look at least 10 pounds thinner."

The vertical line is the key to the slenderizing formula. Miss Miller said the vertical, unbroken line makes a heavy woman look thinner.

A black belt on a black dress maintains the vertical line. A red or gold belt disrupts it, making a part of the outfit horizontal.

"Shun the horizontal lines," she said, "for they can make you look like a blimp."

* * * *

NEXT, consider necklines. Select dresses that have oval or V-shaped openings. They make the face seem less rotund and accent the length of the neck.

"Avoid turtlenecks," Miss Miller said. "Also shy from the cluttered look given by large bows, bulky collars or wide cowl drapes. Don't be afraid of plunging necklines. Chances are you have a nicer neckline than your skinny sister."

Miss Miller, fashion coordinator of Lane Bryant Inc. for the last 15 years, advises surplice styles to help disguise a heavy bustline.

The cut of a skirt helps to disguise the hips. In general, the fashion expert advised against extremes — tight sheath skirts or very full ones.

"A skirt that has ample material but hangs straight is good," she said. "So is one with gores or straight hanging pleats.

"If your weight is concentrated around the hips, but you have a fairly small waist, select a skirt with gentle flaring lines. This will camouflage your hips and draw attention to your small waist."

* * * *

MISS MILLER also made the following points:

—If both waist and hips are heavy, choose dresses with tucks just above and below the belt. Also make sure the belt is of the same color and fabric as the dress.

—Long sleeves are more slenderizing than short ones. Those that come just below the elbow are best. A raglan or drop sleeve is a good style for warm weather because it emphasizes vertical lines.

—Watch pockets. Heavy pockets at the top of the dress or on the skirt can make you seem squat. Concealed or slanting pockets are best.

— Select soft shades. White, pearl grey, honey beige, muted tones of blue, green and lavender minimize weight.

Woman Starts New Life 72-Pound, 8-Sizes Slimmer

Clara Callet (case history No. 42) is shown in the picture below, at the start of a new life. It is hard to believe that she was once the woman in the photograph to the right. Only similar facial features prove that this is true.

MEDICINE AND YOU

New Drug Test Shows Malignant Disorders

By BEN ZINSER

A new test enables doctors to differentiate benign from malignant stomach disorders.

Two Detroit doctors prescribe a drug which imparts fluorescence to malignant tissue. Then they remove sediments from the subject's stomach. These sediments are examined under an ultraviolet lamp. If specimens glow a bright yellow under the lamp, malignancy is suspected.

ZINSER

The drug used for the test is a tetracycline type of antibiotic—Declomycin.

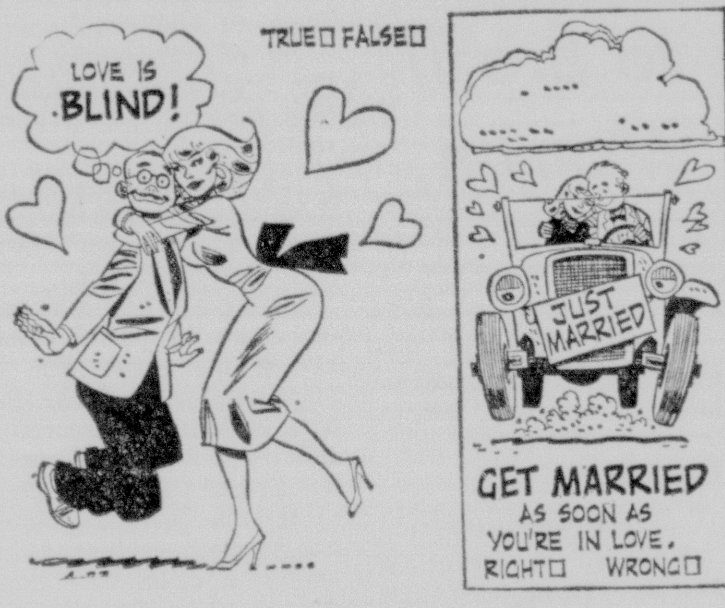
Test subjects take Declomycin capsules (150mg) four times daily for five consecutive days. Then, 30 hours after the last capsule, gastric contents are removed by suction and centrifuged. Sediments are placed on filter paper. These are then examined under the ultraviolet lamp.

Fluorescence was found in 13 of a total of 58 tests, the doctors report in the Journal of the American Medical Association. The 13 positive patients included 10 with stomach malignancy, two in whom a premalignant condition was suspected and one with "suspicious" cancer cells.

The remaining 45 subjects who had negative test results, consisted of seven normal persons and 38 patients with benign stomach disorders.

The researchers, Drs. J. Edward Berk and Sheldon M. Kantor, say studies of the technique will continue at the Yates Memorial Cancer Center of the Michigan Cancer Foundation.

Let's Explore Your Mind



By SYLVANUS AND EVELYN DUVALL

1. Love is blind!

False, although sometimes it looks as though it doesn't "see" very well. There are very good reasons why people love the persons they do. You, for instance, love your dear one because somehow he or she satisfies some real emotional need of yours. You may be unaware of just what that need is, since it may be unconscious. But it affects your feelings more than you know.

* * * *

2. Get married as soon as you're in love.

Wrong. There are several decades of research and thousands of clinical records that say that just being in love isn't reason enough for rushing off into marriage. Before you take a step like that, there are many other factors to be taken into consideration besides your fondness for each other.

AGD Sets Reunion Day

WHY GROW OLD?

Adopt Current Hair Style but Adapt It to Yourself

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Some psychiatrists have suggested that a woman's hair styles may reflect her status in society. Just as long hair was once thought to be a symbol of man's strength, wisdom and virility, the idea is that women's fashions somewhat reflected the roles they were playing in life at the time.

For instance, long ago when women played a more passive role they had long hair. As they acquired more freedom, socially, in business and politics, their hairdos became quite short. This brings up some interesting speculation. Are women subconsciously returning to more feminine roles? One wonders about the recent fashion of teasing the hair into balloon-like proportions and now the new Cleopatra hair style, and about the softer, more feminine modes.

* * * *

ARE MOST women completely dominated by the hair fashion of the moment? I always have suspected that hair stylists are good psychologists, with a tenth sense about the feeling in the feminine atmosphere, and that women will not accept a style unless they are ready for it.

However, it is probably not as complex as this. Women become tired of wearing their hair the same way, year after year. They like to change it just as they like to move the furniture about periodically.

* * * *

THE SMART WOMAN adopts the current fashion, but adapts it to herself. She does not sacrifice good looks for extreme fashion, but looks as pretty as she can and also stylish. She also considers the appropriateness of her hairdo.

With a good basic cut, and hair which is not too short, she can arrange it in an attractive, simple, practical way for daytime, and become more glamorous at night. With the extra hair pieces available, she can be quite elaborate for special occasions.

Modern woman also is aware that good nutrition, cleanliness and scalp massage are essential if she hopes to have lovely tresses, no matter how she wears her hair.

DEAR ABBY

Long Distance Romance

DEAR ABBY:

I am a long-distance operator and my voice must be very interesting because I've had many men try to make dates with me. I was never interested, because what kind of man would want to go out with a girl he's never seen? Anyway, Christmas Eve a man was trying desperately to phone his girl and he was miserable because he couldn't locate her. He liked my voice and I liked his manner and, to make a long story short, I let him pick me up after work. (Please don't let on where this letter is from because I could get fired.) Well, we are going together now, but when people ask me how I met him, what should I say? —GIRL WITH THE SMILING VOICE.

DEAR GIRL:

Put that smile in your voice and tell your party to dial information.

DEAR ABBY:

I have been reading your column faithfully ever since it began six years ago and I agree with your answers about 99% of the time. But there is one part of your thinking that is full of prejudice, and very narrow-minded, to say the least, and that is marriage outside one's faith. I hope you will be big enough to print this, Abby, because I would like to see some letters from intelligent people who have made such marriages work. —A DEVOTED ABBY FAN.

DEAR FAN:

So would I.

DEAR ABBY:

Three cheers for the girl who changed her name from Annie to Audrey. I don't blame her at all. I recently read a book about the Barbary Coast and there were four Annies in it. Dirty Annie, Wagon Spoke Annie, Box Car Annie and Glass Eye Annie.

On most of these hands, only one pair has work to do. Thus, with hand one it is up to East and West to bid and make six spades.

The slam is not hard to bid because almost any logical bidding sequence will get you there.

The play is a little tougher, since East has several lines at his disposal.

* * * *

THE BEST play turns out to be a winner. East plays one high trump and when both opponents follow, East knows the suit will break. His next play should be to lead a low diamond and duck in dummy. North will win and probably return a club whereupon East should refuse the finesse, lead a diamond to dummy's ace, ruff a diamond, cash another high trump, enter dummy with the queen of trumps and discard his queen and seven of clubs on the last two diamonds.

This play would lose if diamonds were to break 5-1, but will win because they break 4-2.

OUR CHILDREN

No Room for Adults in Children's Clubs

By ANGELO PATRI

Parents are sometimes annoyed, even hurt, when one of their chilren is on the outside of a "club" or "society" formed by a handful of their schoolmates. This hurt is quite needless. Boys and girls between 9 and 12 love to form such associations. They are often short-lived; new groups are formed overnight. Usually they have no other purpose than getting together and talking endlessly. Children need this group talk at this stage of their growth.

As the members of these groups grow a bit older they occasionally find a cause to help. This is true of girls more than of boys. They talk, plan, get some help from their mothers and finally hold some sort of show or sale and give the money to the cause. Usually that ends that club and another one forms.

Preadolescent children begin to use the telephone more and more. They enjoy calling each other and chatting. They really have nothing to say from their parents' point of view. But they need this communication. It is part of their developent, and all the parents have to do is limit the length of such calls, and perhaps their number. It is a good time to teach telephone manners.

SOME parents, anxious to further the children's education and skills, try to take part in these clubs. Fathers want their boys interested in some hobby of their own — carpentry, boatbuilding, painting or baseball and football. This is a mistake. Adults have no place here. The children are not ready for serious planning and achievement on a group basis, or indeed as individuals.

These short-lived clubs are the expression of the children's expanding development, new but hidden, too unformed as yet for serious application. True, it looks like wasted time and energy to the adults who are looking on, but it is not really. It is a manifestation of changing growth and development, and all it needs is to be let alone.

There is no law against the disgruntled child's forming a group of his own instead of trying to push his way into one where his peculiar talent does not allow him. Nobody should feel hurt.

Teen Date Bait Tips

Are you hoping you'll be besieged by partners from the stag line at the next school dance? Well, here are a few pointers right from the boys themselves on what not do wear if you wish to be queen of the evening.

Big noisy bracelets piled on one arm make men nervous. Spindly heels frighten them, for they fear the "needle points" will cause an accident.

Knee-length skirts on less then perfect legs only draw attention to the imperfection.

Huge hairdos on small girls look silly, not attractive.

So think over the opinions of your prospective dancing partners, girls, before you dress for the big evening.

Bridal Note

Here is a sound bit of home planning advice for the new bride: select a sofa with simple classic lines for your major living room piece. Then by changing the upholstery or slip-covering in different fabrics, you can adapt it to a contemporary or a traditional decor. A quality sofa, chosen with care, can be a long-range investment.

ment, true worth and full joy. Reject Him, and live a life of tensions, repressions, ulcers and shallow self-interest."

The Resurrection gives meaning and purpose to Christianity, said Rev. Billy Adams of the First Foursquare Church of Long Beach.

"WITHOUT the empty tomb, we would not remember the Cross," the Rev. Mr. Adams said. "People would remember the good things Christ did, of course. But they would have asked themselves, 'Why did he die? What does it all mean now?'

"On the Resurrection morning, these questions were answered. The life of Christ culminated in the conquest of death."

Christians are drawn to church on Easter as to a flame in the darkness, said Rev. Rollo E. Dunham, pastor of the Atlantic Avenue Methodist Church.

* * * *

"OF THOSE who looked at Jesus on the first Good Friday, on the Cross, some mocked him while others wept in despair," said the Rev. Mr. Dunham.

"What do we see as we look at Christ this Easter? Someone to be mocked, or a God to marvel at? Someone to weep over, or a God to exult over?

"We find in Easter an assurance of life beyond the body and life beyond time, which has its beginning here and now, in time and space. This divine mystery brings to us an assurance of the rebirth of true values.

"In Easter, we celebrate the world's inability to silence Christ."

Kefauver Denies Steel Price Curb

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said Sunday night he would not sponsor a bill to reduce steel prices even if his investigation of the steel industry shows that they are too high.

Kefauver replied in the negative when he was asked if he had found any remedy for the rapid rise in steel prices and in steelworkers' wages over the past few years.

The Tennessee senator, chairman of the Senate Antitrust Subcommittee which has scheduled an investigation of steel prices, appeared on a Sunday television program.

* * * *

ASKED ABOUT a proposal which would give the President power to halt any proposed steel price increase for an 80-day cooling off period, Kefauver noted that the present 80-day cooling off period for unions required by the Taft-Hartley Act does not apply except in situations where there is a threat of a strike.

He indicated that he thought the proposed cooling off period for price increases also should apply to proposed wage increases.

He said it would be "a very difficult piece of legislation to prepare, but it is certainly worthy of consideration."

When asked if he had found a remedy for the steel price-wage problem, Kefauver said, "Not really. The force of public opinion is one approach . . . the other way of trying to deal with the matter is to improve our anti-trust laws . . ."

* * * *

HE SAID that there had been a suggestion that the force of public opinion could be brought to bear by compelling companies to publicize proposed price and wage increases.

Shortly after U. S. Steel and several other large companies announced a $6 per ton increase in steel prices, Kefauver said that his subcommittee would conduct an investigation of the industry. Even though the price increase was rescinded, Kefauver said his committee would hold hearings. Officials of major steel companies have been subpenaed to appear in mid-May.

Drysdale Loses to Bunny Braves, 6-3

By GEORGE LEDERER

I.P-T Staff Writer

MILWAUKEE—Day almost turned to night Sunday, but it didn't help Don Drysdale, who hasn't completed an afternoon contest in 13 tries since September of 1960.

On a cool and gray Easter, the lights were turned on in the second inning. For Drysdale, they went out in the third when the Braves scored three unearned runs en route to a 6-3 win over the Dodgers.

* * * *

A TWO-RUN error by Maury Wills enabled the Braves to tie the score and the second of three hits by Del Crandall settled the issue during the third-round Easter Parade of nine Milwaukee batters.

The Dodgers, held to five hits by Bob Shaw, put all their eggs into a first-inning basket, in which Shaw made two errors on one play and Tommy Davis hit a two-run homer. It was Tommy's fourth, giving him 15 RBI and 32 total bases for his 14 hits.

Although it sent the Dodgers into a 3-0 lead, Davis' homer was more of a jolt for Braves centerfielder Hank Aaron than it was for Shaw. Aaron crashed into the

Angels Crying for Right-Handed Power

The Angels' need for a right-handed hitting outfielder is as great as Ryne Duren's need for glasses. Just as Duren won't move too far without his specs, neither will the Angels unless they acquire some starboard punch.

Of the six outfielders on the Angels' roster only Ken Hunt swings from the right side. However, Hunt isn't swinging much at all (unless the band strikes up a "Twist") these days.

KEN HUNT
In Rigney's Doghouse

When "56 Varieties" will play again is as tough a question to answer as how long does Richard Burton remain Cleopatra's Mark Anthony? What started as a muscle pull requiring perhaps a week on the sidelines has run the gamut from minor to serious and its been 22 days now since Hunt saw action (as a starter).

Hunt can swing the bat, but when it comes to throwing he'd be hard pressed trying to match a Parry O'Brien 60-footer. Instead of taking pictures of O'Brien and Gary Gubner, the Russians would be wise copying Hunt's form.

"The doctor says it's the type of injury that may be better tomorrow," says manager Bill Rigney. "But I'm getting a little tired waiting for tomorrow to come."

The Angels suspect that in reality Hunt may not be ready to play for several weeks yet. They would put him on the disabled list except for the possibility that "tomorrow" may dawn tomorrow.

WITH HUNT SIDELINED, Rigney must resort to Earl Averill, a catcher, if the situation calls for a righthanded hitter in the outfield. Averill presents power at the plate, but being no Gazelle he is a definite liability in any park where the outfields are spacious.

With the Duke of Earl playing, the Angels' righthanded bench strength is reduced to Eddie Sadowski and Felix Torres—not a very frightening thought unless you're Rigney.

The answer could be in a trade, but for what the Angels need they have little to offer except cash in return. There have been rumors of a swap with Minnesota, but a glance at the Twins' roster reveals Bill Tuttle and Jim Lemon the only possible merchandise.

Tuttle is 32 and a gifted defensive outfielder. His bat, however, contains few base hits. Lemon is 34 and a tremendous power hitter. His fielding, however, bears a striking resemblance to his name.

THE ANGELS, OF COURSE, need go no further than their own organization to find the outfielder of their dreams. He's George Thomas—that is PFC George Thomas of Wisconsin's 32nd Infantry Division stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington.

Thomas, a .274 hitter with 49 RBIs last season, is currently serving a one-year hitch which is due to expire in October. With 90-days terminal leave due, George could be back with the Angels much sooner.

Following Baltimore's policy of using PFC Steve Barber "only on Sundays," the Angels have been contemplating airlifting Thomas in on weekends and one night a week when the team is stationed at Fort O'Malley.

BUT, FOR THE FIRST TIME, Rigney and general manager Fred Haney hold different views on the subject.

"I'm in favor of bringing George down," says Rigney, scanning a bench full of southpaws. "It would give me a chance to rest one of my lefthanders and maybe we could see a righthanded pitcher for once."

"I'm not so sure flying George down would be practical," says Haney. "In the first place we don't know what kind of shape he's in and in the second place they have few major league pitchers in the Army. He couldn't get in shape or sharpen his timing playing three times a week. It wouldn't help the boy or the Angels."

Thomas is dying to pull guard duty in centerfield. No chance of drawing KP there.

CAUGHT IN ANGELS' WEB

Steve Bilko (20) and Billy Moran have Twins' Jim Snyder in rundown between second and first in eighth inning Sunday. Snyder, however, bowls over Moran (top panel) and shortstop Joe Koppe (bottom) comes over to take toss from Bilko and put on tag for out.

Except Goose Eggs From Kaat, Twins

By ROSS NEWHAN

Bill Rigney left Southern California Sunday evening to spend this off-day in the peace and quiet of his Walnut Creek home.

He did this to escape the peace and quiet of the Angels' offense. The slumbering Seraph attack produced only four hits off a 23-year-old southpaw named Jim Kaat as Minnesota checked out of the O'Malley Hilton Sunday with a 5-0 victory, its third straight.

When Angels lose on Easter it's time to start worrying — and that's what Rigney was doing as he sat in the tomb-like silence of the clubhouse.

"I've got an ulcer watching this same thing last year and I made up my mind that I wouldn't get upset this year. After all, we're young and have a long way to go but I can't manage that way. I hate to lose. I promise that when I come back Tuesday I'll have some new ideas."

* * * *

RIGNEY attempted to install some punch Sunday by benching Lee Thomas, moving Albie Pearson to center field and inserting Earl Averill in left. The mixture was as sockless as Hawiian Punch.

Averill went hitless in three trips while Pearson produced a leadoff single and was then retired three consecutive times. Pearson, the Angels' leading hitter at .288 last year, is batting .200 while Thomas, runnerup at .285, is mired at .105.

"I'm not exactly benching Thomas," explained Rigney. "The two-day rest may be what he needs. He's hitting the ball well, but always right at someone. I don't want him to grow disgusted."

The Angels have averaged 3.5 runs while winning only two of their first six Ravine

BETTOR TABS '5-10 POOL' FOR $59,862

AGUA CALIENTE (UPI)—Near Paradise won the featured Easter Handicap at Caliente Race Track Sunday and a single player picked a perfect card in the 5-10 handicapping contest to win $59,862.40.

A crowd of 14,133 watched jockey Luis Leon set Near Paradise loose in the stretch to win the featured mile and one-sixteenth race in 1:44 1/5. Nearoma came in second, ahead of Jose Hardrock.

The winner paid $11.00, $5.60 and $4.60. Nearoma returned $5.00 and $4.00, while third place paid $5.20.

There were 59 players with five winners picked in the 5-10 contest for a $338.20 payoff apiece. The pool was $93,902.

PIRATES EQUAL NL WIN RECORD

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The streaking Pittsburgh Pirates stormed from behind Sunday to defeat the New York Mets, 4-3, and run their unbeaten string to a record-tying 10 while dealing the hapless New Yorkers their ninth straight loss, equaling another mark.

Pittsburgh's win tied a modern major league record set at the start of the 1955 season by the Brooklyn Dodgers. The National League record for successive losses at the outset was set in 1918, also by Brooklyn.

Bill Mazeroski drove in the deciding run with a triple in the eighth inning, breaking a 3-3 tie. The drive came off reliever Sherman (Roadblock) Jones, who suffered his third defeat against no victories.

Rookie lefthander Bob Veale went the distance for Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh went ahead in the sixth with three runs on Bob Skinner's bases-empty home run, three singles and a sacrifice fly. The outburst sent starter Roger Craig to the showers.

He had been sailing along on a four-hitter.

New York managed to tie the score at 3-3 in the seventh when Hickman singled, went to third on an error by Roberto Clemente and tallied on Cris Cannizzaro's sacrifice fly.

Indians Snap Yankees' Jinx

NEW YORK (AP) — Cleveland moved into first place in the American League and broke a 19-game Yankee stadium losing streak by battering New York pitching for 28 hits Sunday while sweeping a doubleheader, 7-5 and 9-3, before 31,971 fans.

Willie Kirkland's two-run single off Luis Arroyo broke a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning of the second game in which Gary Bell was the winner over Arroyo. The Indians then wrapped it up with four in the ninth.

Jerry Kindall tripled with the bases loaded in the third inning of the opener when the Indians scored five runs. Although Cleveland pitchers walked a total of seven Yanks in the last two innings, a dying-gasp rally fell two runs short and Dick Donovan won over Bill Stafford.

5th, 6th Homers by Cash

BOSTON (UPI) — Defending American League batting champion Norm Cash hit his fifth and sixth home runs of the season Sunday to lead the Detroit Tigers to an 8-6 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

Cash, who had his fourth homer of the year against the Red Sox Saturday, bashed his fifth in the first inning with one man on to highlight a four-run Tiger rally.

PROMOTER BABE McCOY DEAD AT 62

Babe McCoy, former Olympic Auditorium boxing promoter, died early Sunday of a heart attack. He was 62.

McCoy, whose real name was Harry Rudolph, suffered a heart attack a month ago and was under his doctor's care.

The matchmaker had worked at the Olympic for the last two decades. He also promoted boxing matches at Ocean Park Arena in Santa Monica.

McCoy was born in Brooklyn, and grew up in Los Angeles. He was a marine in World War I, and later boxed for a while.

During his career he became involved in several controversies. He once testified ex-convict Mickey Cohen owed him $5,000.

Louis' All-Star Boxing Card Staged Tonight

By FRANK HARVEY

Joe Louis gets his first fistic venture off the ground tonight at the Sports Arena with a giant card of four 10-rounders, topped by a heavyweight battle between talkative Cassius Clay and burly George Logan .

The quadruple promotion will start promptly at 7:30 p.m. The entire show will be theater televised nationally with the Los Angeles area blacked out for a radius of 75 miles. There will be no radio.

John L. Horn, president of United World Enterprises, the sponsoring organization, looks for some 8,000 fans and a $70,000 gate.

Reds Bomb Three Homers, Clip S.F.

CINCINNATI (AP)—The San Francisco Giants should be accoustomed to the wind but it was the Cincinnati Reds who played it for all it was worth Sunday, blasting the Giants for a 6-4 victory.

With a strong wind blowing direct to center field, hits soared over and off the fences.

Vada Pinson, Johnny Edwards and Wally Post hit homers for the Reds and Tom Haller got one for the Giants. There were seven doubles. The homers by Pinson and Edwards came in the same inning—the fourth.

Joey Jay, although needing help from Dave Sisler in the eighth, was the pitching victor with Jack Sanford the loser.

Bill Henry finished for the Reds, retiring the side after going in in the ninth with two on and one out.

Orioles Feast on Nat Pitching

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles blasted four home runs over the left field fence in the new D.C. Stadium Sunday in thumping the Washington Senators, 8-3, before an audience of 10,713.

It was the sixth straight defeat for the Senators.

Jim Gentile and Jackie Brandt hit their first homers of the season, Brooks Robinson his second and Gus Triandos his third. Brandt's was the longest hit in the four games played here—over 390 feet.

Steve Barber, on weekend pass from Fort Braggs, N.C., won for the second straight Sunday under his arrangement of pitching on weekends. He gave up six hits, walked one and fanned four.

Robinson and Gentile hit their home runs off Bennie Daniels,

CAL KOONCE went the distance in the nightcap to pick up his first victory. He allowed nine singles and struck out five.

In the opener, Ernie Banks, Hubbs and Ron Santo each drove in three runs to lead Chicago in their first victory at Busch Stadium in 15 tries.

Cimoli Sparks Athletics

CHICAGO (AP) — The Kansas City Athletics defeated the Chicago White Sox 7-1 and 7-5 in a doubleheader here Sunday and stretched their winning streak to four games. It equaled the Athletics longest victory string of the entire 1961 season.

The Athletics won the second game with a two-run ninth-inning rally that broke a 5-5 tie. Ed Charles drove in the decisive run with a bases-loaded sacrifice fly off Turk Lown.

The victory went to Diego Segui who was working in relief of Norman Bass. Bass, ahead 5-1 early, departed for a pinch-hitter after the White Sox rallied for a tie with a two-run rally featured by Floyd Robinson's double.

Gino Cimoli led the Kansas City attack against Joel Horlen and Lown with a double and three-run homer. Cimoli drove in the Athletics' first five runs.

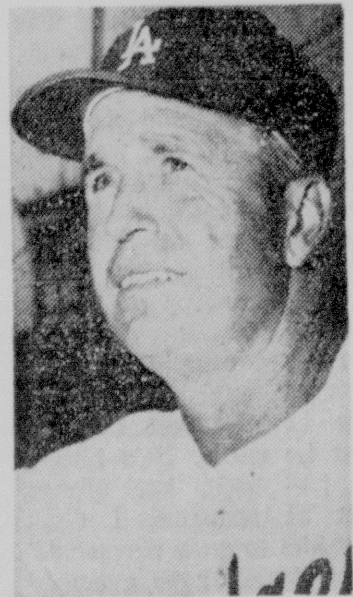
21 Lefthanders May Face Dodgers

MILWAUKEE—Who's afraid of the big, bad left-handed pitching wolves? Not Walter Alston, who huffed and puffed and blew the Dodgers' supposed weakness to pieces Sunday.

"I'll take my chances if all the clubs are willing to save their lefthanders for us," said Alston, "I'd rather face them than some of the hard-throwing righthanders like Cardwell, Mahaffey and Gibson.

"I don't know where all those lefthanders are coming from. Five years ago, there were but three good ones in the league and we didn't see them very often. Simmons was hurt, we never saw Mizell and Spahn faced us only occasionally.

"Now, every club has at least two good ones. The key to our lineup is Tommy Davis and Frank Howard. They should discourage a few of those lefties. It's up to big Frank. When he's in the groove, he'll hit any kind of pitching. When he's not, he can't even hit me."



WALTER ALSTON
Bring On the Lefties

A check through the National League green book discloses that the Dodgers are likely to see 21 left-handed starters. They have seen five already and are even in six decisions (the Braves' Bob Hendley started twice).

CINCINNATI IS THE ONLY club with less than two southpaw starters and four clubs, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Chicago and Houston, have three. The breakdown:

Reds — Jim O'Toole. Giants — Mike McCormick, Billy Pierce. Braves—Warren Spahn and Hendley. Cardinals—Ray Sadecki and Curt Simmons. Pirates—Joe Gibbon, Wilmer Mizell and Harvey Haddix. Cubs — Dick Ellsworth, Jack Curtis and Tom Brewer. Phillies—Chris Short and Don Ferrarese. Colts—Bobby Shantz, Dean Stone and Hal Woodeshick. Mets—Al Jackson and Ken MacKenzie.

Braves manager Birdie Tebbetts' theory on stacking lefthanders against the Dodgers is the same all around the league.

"When you pitch a lefty against the Dodgers," says Tebbetts, "you take away some of their speed. You have Howard in there and maybe you get rid of Willie Davis. You have Wills and Gilliam batting right-handed. And you don't have to pitch to Snider. It's that simple."

APPARENTLY, IT ISN'T QUITE that simple because Tebbetts will hold back Spahn tonight and go with Lew Burdette, who has had less rest. Explained Birdie, "Spahn can beat the Phillies (the Braves' next opponent) just by putting on his glove and Burdette has been more effective against the Dodgers."

On the other hand, Alston may have forced the issue by keeping Willie Davis and John Roseboro in Saturday's lineup against Hendley. "When I first saw our ball park, I was convinced that I'd have to use Willie in center field. Now I'm more convinced than ever.

"I also believe that Roseboro can hit lefthanders. Sometimes it's better not to move men in and out of the lineup and sometimes it's best to keep everyone on his toes. We'll just have to feel our way along. But I'll take my chances against left-handed pitching."

SPORTS ARENA RING CARD--

TV arrangement, Ralph Dupas, the world's No. 1 welterweight contender, and highly-touted Franke Ramirez of Los Angeles, will open the punchfest in a 147-pound duel.

Clay, firing for his 13th straight as a pro and freely predicting he will own the heavyweight title before he's 21, and Logan, the Boise, Idaho, slugger who upset Alejandro Lavorante last December, will follow with the headline heavyweight 10.

Still presenting "name" fighters who have never before boxed here, matchmaker Louis then will present Eddie Machen, the No. 2 ranked heavyweight, versus Bert Whitehurst, the veteran New York and Baltimore puncher.

Classy Eddie Garcia, Denver lightweight, and Mexico's Tony Perez, loser of only one bout in 11 starts, will wind up the card in a 10-rounder which should produce plenty of action.

Most of tonight's attention will focus on Clay, the Louisville "loud mouth." Clay will rule a 3-1 favorite over Logan and, in keeping with his own intimate oratory when informed of the odds, said: "Logan now must fall in three." But Logan, a rough puncher, has other plans. The Boise belter claims Clay's stand-up style is made to order for him.

Machen, clamoring for a Heavyweight title clash for years, will be heavily favored over Whitehurst.

In the other bouts Dupas figures as 6-1 over Ramirez and Garcia is a slight 10-9 choice over Perez.

STANLEY CUP CLINCHER

Leafs Nip Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — The Toronto Maple Leafs scored a pair of quick third period goals and defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, 2-1, Sunday night to win their first Stanley Cup championship in 11 years.

Proving they could win away from home, the Leafs found themselves trailing 1-0 midway in the third period before they finally put on their drive for victory.

Bob Nevin tied it up at 10:29 when he slammed the puck past overworked Glenn Hall and Dickie Duff scored the clincher at 14:14 while Chicago's Eric Nesterenko sat in the penalty box. The Stanley Cup championship was the eighth for Toronto and the Maple Leafs did it by finally winning a game away from home.

All four of their victories against New York in the semifinals were in Toronto as were their previous three triumphs against the Hawks. But it was the Leaf's night.

They kept the pressure on the Hawks from start to finish and less than two minutes after Chicago had forged ahead, Toronto tied it and then battled its way to victory.

After his dull fight in losing to Carlos Ortiz Saturday night, many are speculating it's his age—36 on May 18. Brown had no lucid explanation. "I just couldn't get going," he said afterward. "I don't know why. I felt wrong from the start."

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (UPI) —Heavyweight fighter Tunney Hunsaker, critically injured April 6th in a professional bout at Beckley, will be allowed to leave Bluefield Sanitarium this week if his condition continues to improve.

Hunsaker underwent two operations to relieve pressure on his brain after he was knocked out by Joe (Shotgun) Sheldon of Cleveland, Ohio.

Phils Win 4th in Row Over .45s

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Philadelphia Phillies took their fourth straight victory from the Houston Colts Sunday, 4-3, with Jack Baldschun again performing brilliantly in relief.

Philadelphia's four runs were the most scored against Houston in 10 games so far this season.

Starter Jim Owens was the winning pitcher although he needed relief in the seventh inning. Sullivan pitched to four batters before Baldschun took charge in the seventh, put out a Colt rally and coasted through the last two innings.

Houston Classic Ends in Tie for 4th Straight Year

HOUSTON (UPI) — A trio of newcomers wound up with identical two-under-par 278 totals Sunday to tie for the lead at the end of the regulation 72 holes in the $50,000 Houston Golf Classic.

Ending in the tie were Dan Sikes, 30-year-old Florida lawyer playing his second year on the tour; rookie Jack Nicklaus, 22-year-old former Ohio State star, and Bobby Nichols, 26, of Louisville, Ky.

The tie threw the Classic into a playoff for the fourth consecutive year.

Sikes had the best round of the three and overcame a four-stroke lead which Nicklaus held over him going into the final round.

Nicklaus, holding a two-stroke margin over the field at the end of the third round, went two-over par for a 72 while Nichols fired an even-par 70.

* * * *

BILLY CASPER of Apple Valley, Calif., finished strong with a one-under-par 69 for a 279 total which gave him fourth place and $2,600 prize money.

The winner of today's play-off will take the $9,000 first prize money with the other two, regardless of their score, tied for second and winning $3,800 each.

Nicklaus, still seeking his first tournament championship, met disaster on the fourth hole where he got a double bogey.

He chose to putt the ball rather than chip, and the ball hopped straight into the air, barely making the edge of the green. He then two-putted to take a double bogey six for the hole. As it turned out, those strokes cost him the championship.

TIDY TOO GOES TODAY

Alamitos Meeting at Half-Way Mark

By MAC McGUIRE

Alamitos Bar, who "has to win a little at a time," is expected to take his second shot at the older horses in the $5,000 Chicago V. Stakes which Saturday climaxes the third week of racing at Los Alamitos Race Course.

The 25-day meeting crosses the half-way mark today with a nine-race program highlighted by the $1,700 Newport Dunes Purse at 400 yards in which veteran mare Tidy Too is expected to win her second straight victory. First post is 1:25 p.m.

* * * *

SATURDAY, Alamitos Bar had to swallow second money for the third time in four meetings when Pokey Bar nipped him by a head at the wire in the world record time of 21.6 seconds in the ninth running of the $22,000 Pacific Coast Quarter Horse Racing Association Derby.

The time beat the previous record for 440 yards of 21.7 seconds set by Vandy's Flash in 1960.

Pokey Bar not only set the world record for the distance, but became the richest quarter horse of all time when the $11,000 winner's share of the Derby upped his earnings to $132,797. This surpassed the previous high of $128,901 set by Tonto Bars Hank before he retired to stud this spring.

* * * *

EARL HOLMES, trainer of Alamitos Bar, said that if his brown son of Three Bars pulled up healthy after the Derby, he would come right back in Saturday's Chicago V. Stakes.

Earlier, he had joshed with Newt Keck, trainer of Pokey Bar, "We have to get the money a little at a time. I'll run Alamitos Bar every chance I get."

He was referring to the fact that Pokey Bar got a big start on his huge bankroll by winning $102,000 in the All-American Futurity last September at Ruidoso Downs.

Just a few days after that exchange in the stable area cafeteria, Pokey Bar beat the veteran stakes stars in the opening day Shue Fly Stakes.

* * * *

HE IS expected to handle the hard-knocking campaigners again next Saturday, for though he just turned 3-year-old in January the tough colt is practically a grizzled campaigner himself, once hitting the wire six straight times last year. He has won eight of his 17 starts and been in the money four other times.

As the spring meeting entered the third full week of racing, Ronald Banks, who had the sensational day of riding five straight winners last Wednesday, leads the rider standings with 15 victories, four more than Charles Smith and Kenneth Chapman.

There was a three-way tie for the lead among the trainers. P. D. Williams, Don Farris and George Kaufman saddled five and eight others had saddled four winners.

SIR GAYLORD STILL PICK IN FUTURE BOOK

AGUA CALIENTE (UPI) —Sir Gaylord was the 2-1 choice Sunday in the Caliente Future Book on the Kentucky Derby May 5.

Action on the Meadow Stable star was spearheaded by a $3,000 straight and a $3,000 place wager.

Ridan was the steady choice at 4-1 with Sir Ribot next at 5-1. Crimson Satan and Sunrise County were 6-1, the latter being dropped from 10-1 after his dead-heat in the Wood Memorial with Admiral's Voyage. Admiral's Voyage was pared from 12 to 8-1 while Donut King was unchanged at 10-1 after finishing third in the Wood.

Doc Jocoy, winner of the California Derby, was halved from 30 to 15-1 while Royal Attack, who ran a dismal race, remained 10-1.

ATTACK, DOC GO IN DERBY

SAN BRUNO (UPI) — Doc Jocoy, winner of Saturday's California Derby at Tanforan, and Royal Attack, who came in sixth, will both race in the Kentucky Derby, their owners announced Sunday.

Both horses had been entered in the Kentucky Derby, but Neil McCarthy had expressed some doubt his Royal Attack would go to Kentucky after running sixth Saturday.

Both horses are scheduled to leave San Francisco today for Kentucky.

Rockets' Defenses Crumble

The Rockets' defenses blew apart in the fifth inning as Quad-Cities scored four unearned runs en route to a 6-1 victory Sunday at Blair Field.

THE PALMER METHOD

COURTESY HAS ITS PLACE IN GOLF

Good manners help make golf the great game it is. They afford your playing companions and others more enjoyment.

For instance, never forget to wave others through if you or one of your partners have lost a ball, or if your group has, in any manner, slowed its pace.

by Arnold Palmer

4-23

When finished putting out, don't delay in walking off the green. Few things are more irritating to following players than to have a foursome stay on the green after finishing, discussing the hole and perhaps even marking the score card. This can and should be done later.

And when you reach the next tee, be ready when it's your turn to hit.

DODGERS

padded center field fence and was unable to continue.

It is doubtful, too, that Aaron will be in the lineup tonight when 20-year-old Joe Moeller faces Lew Burdette in the series finale. X-rays disclosed that Aaron bruised his right knee and some ribs on his right side.

* * * *

SINCE AARON has driven in only four runs in 11 games, a Milwaukee writer suggested that doctors look into his RBI as well as his ribs.

Unproductive as it was Sunday, manager Walter Alston said he will use the same lineup tonight against Burdette (0-2), 6-3 loser to Drysdale at Dodger Stadium.

"Drysdale didn't have his best stuff," said Alston. "He didn't warm up too well and he was wild. We have nobody to blame but ourselves. After we got our three runs in the first, we didn't hit another ball well all day."

Coach Leo Durocher wasn't talking in the clubhouse, but he wanted to blame the umpires. He argued a call by third base umpire Stan Landes in the third inning and then was ejected in the seventh by plate umpire Vinnie Smith.

* * * *

WHILE LEO entertained a national TV audience, it was a costly performance. The dismissal carries an automatic $25 fine and the first argument will cost him from $50 to $100, depending upon Landes' taste in clothing. They bet a suit and Leo lost.

Durocher, Drysdale and Alston challenged Landes' "safe" call at third on the sliding Frank Bolling in the third inning. It appeared that Andy Carey made the tag in time, but Landes ruled that Carey did not have complete possession.

"The ball rolled from the heel of his glove to the fingers while he made the tag," said Landes. "Leo claimed that's the same as an outfielder juggling a ball, but still making the catch. I told him there's a distinct difference between a catch and a tag.

* * * *

"THEN HE bet me a suit. When I get to L.A., I'm going to buy one and send him the bill. By the way, how's his credit rating?"

(Rule 2.00 supports Landes and defines a tag as legal only when made while ". . . holding the ball securely and firmly in hand of glove.")

Durocher was bounced in the seventh while making a pitching change. Smith said he asked only, "who's the new pitcher?" and said Leo refused to answer.

"I have a right to know so I can inform the PA announcer," said Smith. "When he wouldn't tell me, I ran him out. Then he cussed me and, among other things, called me 'an iron head.' He kept coming back because he was on TV."

Durocher refused to discuss the matter to complete a day of upsets.

* * * *

TEN WALKS, of which two were intentional, cost the Dodgers four runs. Drysdale walked five, two scoring in the third inning. Rookie Pete Richert walked four, one with the bases full. He also wild-pitched home a run with the bases full in the seventh.

Crandall and Roy McMillan, the seventh and eighth place hitters, shared six of the Braves' dozen hits. Crandall homered with the bases empty in the second inning.

DIS AND DATA—Shaw (1-1) handled seven chances himself and also retired six Dodgers on pop flies. . . . It was his first NL win. . . . He won one and lost one against the Dodgers in the 1959 World Series.

Lee Walls flew to Los Angeles during the game. . . His 1-week old daughter was to undergo brain surgery at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Sunday night.

Larry Sherry replaced Richert in the seventh and got Tommie Aaron to bounce into an inning-ending double play on the first pitch. . . . Tommie replaced his brother, Hank, in the first inning. . . . He started in left field and finished at first base.

Wally Moon made his first start for the Dodgers at first base. . . . He finished one game at first in 1959, started 104 for the Cardinals in 1955-56. . . . He played two games at first during spring training.

outings. They walloped 122 homers at Wrigley Field but have managed only one in their new, spacious surroundings.

"Last year we could count on a home run to help us find our way out of a slump," said Rigney. "We're not going to be able to do that in this park."

* * * *

MINNESOTA'S outfield might just as well have spent Sunday at Disneyland. It did not make a putout. The pickets' only duties were retrieving Pearson's first-inning single, Felix Torres' third-inning double and Billy Moran's seventh-inning single. Moran also had a fourth-inning infield hit, running his streak to eight games.

Kaat, winner of nine against 17 defeats last season, fanned 10 and did not allow a walk—a rare feat for the man who led the American League in hit batters and wild pitches last year. He faced only 30 men.

* * * *

GEORGE WITT, the Angels' starter, could not copy Kaat. Singles by the Twins' first two batters and Rich Rollins' deep fly to right put the visitors on the scoreboard right off the bat. Two innings later Harmon Killebrew sealed the Angels' fate when he followed a walk and single by Rollins with a towering home run which landed seven rows from the top of the left-field pavilion.

"It had to be hit 485 feet," said Ed Sadowski, stationed in the Angels bullpen.

* * * *

THE SERAPHS were unanimous in their praise of Kaat. "I've seen him several times," said Sadowski, a strikeout victim as a pinch-hitter in the sixth, "But this was the sharpest he's ever appeared. His curve was falling off the table."

Umpire Nestor Chylak, stationed behind the plate, summed up the performance perfectly: "He had a purpose for every pitch."

Cleveland's Indians are the next guests of the Angels with Dean Chance (0-0) and Ron Taylor (0-1) the pitching foes Tuesday evening.

Top Viewing Today

7 A.M.—TODAY on channel 4. Start of week-long coverage of Seattle World's Fair.

10 P.M.—BREAKTHROUGH: Heart and Artery Surgery on channel 4. Hour-long special showing four operations.

Tele-Vues

by TERRY VERNON

Johnny Olsen has the task of audience warmer-upper for "To Tell the Truth," the Monday night CBS panel show.

And it sometimes is a hazardous task.

"Once I started in the back of the theater working my way to the stage," he recalled. "I was singing and acting crazy.

"As I came down the aisle, I'd kiss women on the cheek.

"One woman wasn't cooperative at all. She stuck out her foot and tripped me.

"I was on crutches for weeks."

And then there was a woman who was too cooperative.

"She was big — real big—and she put her arm around my neck and lifted me right off the floor.

"I had throat trouble for nearly two weeks."

* * * *

TWELVE TV cameras were used in four separate operating rooms to tape "Breakthrough: Heart and Artery Surgery," which airs 10 p.m. today on channel 4.

Each of the cameras, along with cables, microphones and other equipment, was carefully swabbed with an antiseptic solution before being wheeled into the operating rooms.

The cameras took closeup pictures of the surgery which enables viewers to see the details more closely than anyone in the operating room except the surgeon.

QUOTE FROM Danny Thomas:

"Perhaps the real reason for whatever public acceptance I enjoy is that I'm not acting on TV—and the people know it.

"I am, off TV, as I am on, impulsive, sentimental and soft-hearted.

"I bellow and I roar and from time to time I open my mouth and find my foot in it—like every man and father and husband since the beginning of time."

7 P.M.

"Holiday" (13) in COLOR boards the Geronimo, Marineland's oceangoing vessel, to hunt for a whale and bring it back alive. The quest is successful.

8 P.M.

"Medic" (5) replaces the damaged heart valve of a teenage girl with a plastic valve. The actual operation is shown. This old series probably could be considered the pioneer not only for the drama-medical shows that followed it, but also for the medical documentaries we are now seeing on television.

Author on KLAC

Renee Taylor, author of the best seller "Hunzaland," will be Jackson Wheeler's guest on his 1 p.m. to 12 midnight broadcast today on radio station KLAC.
